IMPORTANT FROM NEW-ORLEANS.

Capture of Alexandria by Admiral Porter.

General Banks' Forces in Possession.

Previous Bombardment and Capture of Fort De Russy.

The Great Cavalry Raid Through Mississippi.

Safe Arrival of Col. Grierson's Command at Baton Rouge.

DETAILED ACCOUNT OF THEIR EXPLOITS.

Immense and Irreparable Damage Inflicted upon the Enemy.

Only One of Our Men Killed, and Six Wounded.

Proposed Organization of a Corps D'Afrique by Gen. Banks.

The United States Mail Steamship George Washington, from New-Orleans on the 10th inst., arrived at this port yesterday. The transport George Peabody left New-Orleans on the same day.

The following important intelligence we find in an Extra of the Era, issued on the day the steamer sailed:

"Rear Admiral FARRAGUT, Fleet-Capt. JENKINS, Dr. FOWLKES, Surgeon of the fleet; E. C. GABADAN, Admiral FARRAGUT'S Secretary; Fleet-Clerk PALMER and Lieut. EATON, of the Army Signal Corps, arrived here this afternoon from Brasbear City, and are now at the St. Charles Hotel.

Admiral FARRAGUT and his officers left the flagship Hartford in Red River, on Friday morning, and came through the Atchafalaya River and Grand Lake to Brashear City. He brings intelligence that Alexandria was captured, on the 6th, by Admiral PORTER, with his own and a portion of Admiral FARRAGUT'S fleet.

Previously to taking Alexandria, to wit, on the 4th instant, the gunboats Albatross, Estrella and Arizona went up Red River on a reconnoissance, and made a prize of all that remained of Fort DeRussy. The batteries of the fort were first engaged, and soon the steamers Grand Duke and Mary T. took a part in the fight. The Mary T. had a shot put into her boiler, and was disabled. The Grand Duke made her escape, and the fort surrendered.

In this action, Mr. J. HAMILTON, pilot, of this city, and G. W. BROWN, seaman, were killed. Mr. GEORGE MERRITT, pilot, GEORGE FYFFE, JAMES DUNN and FRANK VINCENT, seamen, were wounded.

ADDITIONAL PARTICULARS.

We have learned since writing the above, that Alexandria was taken by Admiral PORTER early on the morning of the 6th; and at 6 o'clock in the evening, Gen. DWIGHT'S cavalry dashed into the place, thus forming a junction between the land forces of the Department of the Gulf and the Western flotilla."

We are indebted to Purser ALLEN, of the George Washington, for special favors.

OUR NEW-ORLEANS CORRESPONDENCE.

Wonderful Cavalry Exploit—Grand Demonstrations at the St. Charles Hotel—May Day Celebration—Registered Enemies and Gen. Banks' Proclamation—The Rebel Prisoners at Algiers—Highly Exciting News from Gen. Banks' Army.

NEW-ORLEANS, Thursday, May 7, 1863.

The Department of the Gulf has, at last, aroused itself to action, and events of the most startling character are so rapidly succeeding each other down here, that it is not very easy to keep pace with them. A correspondent never before had so much reason to covet the power of ubiquity. You have been so long accustomed, in the North, to keep your eyes intently fixed on Richmond and the Rappahannock, that I can readily imagine the surprise with which you must read the tidings which each successive mail brings you from this distant latitude. Be assured that you have only yet received the first instalment of events that will electrify the world. I should not be surprised if the Mississippi should prove, at last, the base of operations by which we can most instantaneously reach the innermost heart of this mighty rebellion; and I am quite sure that if the Government only keeps the military ardor and genius of Gen. BANKS well and thoroughly supported by every necessary reinforcement and supply, it will take him but a short while to give the rebel leaders their coup-de-grace.

We can now truly say of Union joys in this department what ROSSE said of Scotland's griefs:

> "That of an hour's age doth hiss the speaker,
> Each minute teems a new one."

The newest is the arrival among us of that gallant and heroic band—the Sixth and Seventh Illinois cavalry Volunteers—who have just cleared their way through the heart of the enemy's country, traversing the entire length and breadth of the State of Mississippi, all the way from La Grange, Tennessee, to Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

As the event was altogether too important to be embodied in the ordinary space of a letter, I have put it in the shape of a separate account. Let not the reader be scared at the length of it, for every word will amply repay perusal. Let him provide himself with a good map of the State of Mississippi, follow that description—mile for mile—think of the dangers these men had to encounter, the physical difficulties to overcome, their small numbers and the forces opposed to them, their hair-breadth escapes, the enormous amount of injury they have done to the enemy, and the terror they have inspired—and then ask himself whether, for rapidity of movement, strategic conception and dairing execution, courage, patience, and heroic endurance, he ever heard or read of anything to surpass it in the whole annals of warfare,—ancient or modern.

To go over all that these men have accomplished—men, the majority of whom probably were, but a very short time ago, following the peaceful avocations of life, seems almost encroaching on the marvellous; and yet the record is clear enough.

In fifteen days they have travelled over 800 miles, through the heart of a hostile country, with large forces of the enemy, under Generals PEMBERTON and GARDNER, using every effort to surround and capture them. During that time they have had numerous fights, killing and wounding numbers of the enemy, and taking hundreds of prisoners, horses and contrabands—subsisted themselves—destroyed millions of property in bridges and trestles, some 200 cars, ammunition, stores, clothing, &c., that the enemy will feel more keenly than the loss of a whole army,—played havoc with the telegraphs and three principal railroads, by which the beleagured rebels on the Mississippi depended altogether for communication and aid from the interior, and which would take them many weeks to repair, even if they had the facilities—and all this with the miraculously small loss of only one killed and six wounded.

This is but a brief and imperfect summmary of the material results of this grand event. But how shall we measure the length and breadth of that stupendous moral effect which it is going to produce, both at home and abroad, as soon as it is blazoned to the world? What estimate can we put upon the loss of that impudently assumed prestige of invincibility, by which the rebel leaders and their Copperhead friends have been hitherto hoodwinking so many good but deluded people of the North? How can we value this withering exposure of the utter rottenness and weakness of the rebellion, where people expected to find it strongest,—the emulation and fortitude that such exposures will spread through the ranks of our armies, and the corresponding dismay and depression among those of the enemy? and how can we measure the extent to which this new and unexpected manifestation of our military power will cripple the rebels, by compelling them to divide their forces everywhere; to keep ten or fifteen thousand men guarding their railways, not knowing when or where a GRIERSON or a PRINCE may come down upon them again like an avenging thunderbolt?

I had the privilege of an introduction to both those gallant officers, immediately on their arrival here,—and it was indeed cheering to hear their accounts of the state in which they found the rebel country through which they had just passed. "I tell you, General," said Col. GRIERSON, turning to Gen. SHEPLEY, "no one can pass through that country without knowing that the Confederacy is broken up; it is a mere shell with nothing in it. The negroes are not working, but flying from place to place. We met many with handcuffs on, and released them. Their crops of this year cannot be realized, and the whole slave-system is utterly demoralized in the State of Mississippi."

GRAND DEMONSTRATION AT THE ST. CHARLES.

As a matter of course, the presence of these heroes among us has created the wildest excitement. On the evening of their arrival from Baton Rouge (Tuesday, the 5th,) there was one of those speedy and spontaneous outbursts of genuine feeling which can only occur when some grand cause is agitating the mind of a whole community. It is to be questioned if the Rotunda of the St. Charles ever exhibited such a scene of uproarious loyalty as it presented on that occasion.

It having been understood that the excellent band of the Forty-seventh Massachusetts were going to serenade Col. GRIERSON, a crowd began soon to collect; and, by 9 P. M., when the band woke up the echoes of the long corridors of the St. Charles Hotel with the "Star Spangled Banner," immense numbers had filled the spacious entrance portico, where Surgeon SMITH addressed them. From this they passed with the band into the large Rotunda, where Capt. J. L. SWIFT, of Gen. GROVER'S Staff, mounting on the central marble table, introduced Col. GRIERSON to the multitude with a few most thrilling and eloquent remarks.

Col. GRIERSON diffidently got upon the table, amid deafening shouts of applause, that seemed as if they would never cease; the circular gallery up in the dome, being filled with ladies, waving scarfs and handkerchiefs, and joining in the loud chorus of praise and welcome.

For a moment or two the brave Colonel stood literally overcome by such a reception, his unfeigned modesty forming so rich a contrast to his proved valor, as to make him appear only the more admirable to the crowd of ardent eyes riveted upon him. His first remark was that he "could easier face a host of rebels than such a demonstration;" and his audience fully believed him. He confined himself to a few feeling and pertinent words of thanks, in which he disclaimed all personal honor to himself, for only having done his duty, but delegated all praise to his officers and the gallant men who had gone through such untold hardships and dangers, without a single murmur. This, indeed, forms the whole burden of the Colonel's thoughts, as often as his deeds are alluded to. Never were intrinsic worth and valor more unaffectedly combined with frank and benevolent simplicity of character. Such a combination has resistless influence upon brave men, and I can readily believe what one of his troopers told me: that there is not a man of his command but would cheerfully lay down his life for him.

After a few short and appropriate remarks from various speakers,—military and civilian—during which a large Union flag was suddenly displayed from the upper gallery, by Mr. JOHN E. HAYES, of the Boston Traveller, amid the most enthusiastic plaudits,—Maj. STARR, of the Sixth Illinois cavalry, being loudly called for, returned thanks in a few appropriate and modest remarks.

Col. PRINCE, of the Seventh Illinois, who had been accidentally absent at the commencement of the proceedings, was then introduced to the crowd by Lieut. A. G. HILLS, of the Era, and his appearance was greeted with intense delight. The gallant Colonel is no ordinary speaker, and kept his audience deeply interested in the brief but graphic picture which he gave of scenes through which they had just passed.

Alluding to the miserable deception to which the rebel leaders resort, in giving a false coloring of us to their deluded followers, he says that wherever our cavalry was coming there was a general closing up of doors and shutters, and a stampede of everything with two or four legs. But the people with whom they conversed, seemed surprised to find that they were not the savages they had been painted. The ladies, too, along the route, they found to be real women—whose conduct was perfectly natural. They had not yet learned to act after the manner of the "refined women" of the cities—they did not scoff, or scowl, or spit at them, as the women in the large towns are accustomed to do, but treated them all as gentlemen. In fact, they could not help but be pleased with the general character of the reception they met. They could not have been more kindly treated any where than they were by these people, who have their sons, brothers and fathers in the rebel army, and whose interests and sympathies are enlisted in the rebel cause. They offered them the hospitalities of their houses, gave information and furnished them with guides, and dealt with them frankly and in a friendly manner.

In freely giving us his view as to the probable result of the struggle, from what he had personally witnessed, he told us that he thought from the damage done the Jackson Railroad, Port Hudson could not be held ten days, and that by the expiration of that period, it would be in the hands of our army with all its armament and supplies. With Port Hudson in our possession, nothing could prevent the same command from passing in the rear of Vicksburgh, and destroying the railroad there as it had done beyond Jackson. This accomplished, Vicksburgh must fall, and he felt warrented in saying that in twenty days this boasted stronghold of rebeldom would be in possession of our forces—that the people of New-Orleans would drink the waters of the Mississippi unpolluted by the finger of a single traitorous rebel.

ANOTHER DEMONSTRATION.

Not content with the ovation of the preceding night, several leading gentlemen determined to present to Col. GRIERSON a splendid war horse, and to Col. PRINCE a superb military saddle and bridle, richly trimmed with gold lace, as small but earnest tokens from the Unionists of New-Orleans, of their deep appreciation of such noble services.

The scene presented in the Rotunda this evening was a counterpart of the last, except that it far exceeded it in numbers and loyal manifestations, and that many more ladies were present.

The proceedings were commenced by L. MADISON DAY—a well-known resident—mounting the marble table, and on behalf of the Unionists of New-Orleans, presenting the gifts to the distinguished guests, which he did in a short but very able speech.

On Col. GRIERSON taking the stand, the scene presented was very animating. Two beautiful little girls, dressed in white—each bearing a small flag and one of those lovely bouquets of magnolias and other gorgeous flowers to be found only in this semi-tropical region—were lifted up to the side of the Colonel, and presented their floral offerings, with a neat little speech from the older of the two.

My limited space forbids a detail of the Colonel's very earnest and telling speech on this occasion, but the few following remarks, coming from such a source, will have such deep significance with your readers in every part of the country, that I am tempted to send them:

"In passing through the Confederacy, I have had a good opportunity to form a correct opinion of its strength. That strength has been over-estimated. They have neither the armies nor the resources we have given them credit for, and we have been greatly deceived in regard to the means and power of the rebels. Passing through their country, (and the passage was not a very difficult one,) I found thousands of good Union men, who are ready and anxious to return to their allegiance the moment they can do so with safety to themselves and families. They will rally around the old flag by scores whenever our army advances. I could have brought away a thousand with me, who were anxious to come—men whom I found fugitives from their homes, hid in the swamps and forests, where they are hunted like wild beasts by the rebel conscription officers with bloodhounds. Having visited them in their own homes, I have founded my belief upon what I heard and saw there, that the day is not far distant when we shall witness the downfall of the rebellion."

Col. PRINCE followed, in his usual forcible manner. In alluding to a remark which fell from Mr. DAY, respecting the united interests of the Northwest and Southwest, he said, with great emphasis:

"We have come from the West to your assistance, to put down treason. And in like manner we will always come to your relief, when necessary, it matters not who may be the foe—foreign or domestic. When the Mississippi is closed by hands hostile to our National Government, we of the West will open it with our hearts' blood, if needful. Yes, you may always count upon us. Come as we may, but we will come. We of Illinois have always looked upon the Mississippi, the Great Father of Waters, as our Father, and the people of the Northwest, together with those of the Southwest, must have it for their great highway of free communication with each other."

Other speeches followed, of great power, from Col. FIELD and others, and interspersed with the patriotic strains by the band of the Forty-seventh Massachusetts. Upon the whole, the manifestations of those two evenings, were such as to fill every loyal heart with joy, and to persuade every secessionist present that the time has come for them to abandon their cause as hopeless in the city of New-Orleans. Never, perhaps, since the Crescent City was in existence, certainly not for very many years past, have Liberty and Union found such fearless and emphatic utterances within it.

MAY DAY.

I was present, on the first of May, at one of the most beautiful and interesting celebrations that ever occurred here—the festival of the Madison Girls' School. Pleasing as it was, it might not have been considered of sufficient public importance for mention here, if—in the present condition of New-Orleans—such gatherings did not bear a political significance, and a very deep one.

May Day has been always a time of festive gatherings for the schools here, but their celebrations were, hitherto, held in-doors. On this occasion, the scene selected was the old City Park, some distance out of New-Orleans, the grandest collection of old wide-spreading oaks that ever charmed the eye of painter.

Here the young ladies met, under the care of Miss WHITLEY, their accomplished Principal, crowned the "May Queen" with all due ceremony, and spent the whole day in dancing, music, swinging, and every species of innocent sport, in which they were joined by very many "children of a larger growth" from the city. Capt. WALTERS, Commander of the gunboat Kineo, had kindly sent there a large quantity of canvass to lay on the grass for dancing, with abundance of ropes for swings, and detailed two or three of his sailors to come and arrange matters for his young friends.

In spite of the beauty and gaiety of the scene, as these graceful young creatures flitted over the greensward, in their light dresses, like a swarm of butterflies, I could not lose sight of the fact that this was a Union demonstration among the citizens of New Orleans, and that at least two-thirds of the children present were the offspring of enemies of the United States, either open or concealed. If such a scene appeared extraordinary to a stranger, how much more must it have done so to those old residents present, who could contrast it with the state of things existing so short a time ago.

The fact is that the school authorities here are making strenuous efforts to administer an antidote to the venemous poison of secession, too long corrupting the tender minds of the rising generation, and their efforts are being attended with the greatest success. In every public school it is now a specified regime, that the exercises shall daily commence and close with patriotic hymns, and that the selection of themes for recitations, &c., shall all have the same tendency. Union flags have been raised over every schoolhouse in the first district—the Madison school having the honor of inaugurating the movement—and soon there will not be a single place of education in the city without its emblem of loyalty. By such efforts as these, and by getting these innocent young creatures to mingle frequently with friends, whom they have been cruelly taught to look upon as mortal enemies, their minds become stamped with ideas of truth and genuine love of their country, which no amount of false teaching can hereafter erase.

It was really interesting to watch some little dark-haired Southern beauty innocently romping with her blue-eyed playmate—the daughter of some officer from Maine or Massachusetts,—and then to be reminded that the father of the former was a "registered enemy." "Do you see that exquisite girl laughing with that young officer?" said a gentleman to me—"she has a brother in the rebel army." I looked again, soon afterwards, and the charming young couple had walked off, in earnest conversation. Who thinks that any "North" or "South" was poisoning the current of their sweet thoughts? Keep on your May Day festivals, my friends. I saw more, in the innocent pastimes of that one day, to undermine and overthrow the satanic rule of JEFF. DAVIS, than if I had seen a whole brigade of his followers annihilated on the battle field.

"REGISTERED ENEMIES."

In my last I sent you two very important orders just issued by Gen. BANKS,—one of them requiring "registered enemies" to leave this Department on or before the 15th May. Gen. BOWEN has since then published the following:

OFFICE PROVOST-MARSHAL GENERAL OF LOUISIANA,
NEW-ORLEANS, May 1, 1863.

Notice is hereby given to the registered enemies of the United States within the Department of the Gulf, that in accordance with the order of the Commanding General, they will be required to leave the said Department and go within the lines of the enemy, on or before the 15th day of May instant. Such persons now registered as enemies, but desirous to return to their allegiance and willing to take the prescribed oath of fidelity and obedience to the United States, a copy of which oath is herewith published, will make application for that purpose to this office before the 10th day of May.

JAMES BOWEN, Brig.-Gen., P. M. G.

OFFICE PROVOST-MARSHAL GENERAL,
DEPARTMENT OF THE GULF, NO. 208 CARONDELET-STREET, NEW-ORLEANS, ——, 1863.

I do hereby solemnly and sincerely swear, in the presence of Almighty God, that I will support, protect and defend the Constitution and Government of the United States against all enemies, whether domestic or foreign, and that I will bear true and faithful allegiance and loyalty to the same—any ordinance, resolution or law of any State, Convention or Legislature to the contrary notwithstanding; and further, that I take this oath, and assume all its responsibilities, legal and moral, of my own free will, and with a full determination, pledge and purpose to observe and fulfill it, and without any mental reservation or evasion whatever; and, further, that I will well and faithfully perform all the duties that may be required of me by law, as a true and loyal citizen of the United States. And may God help me so to do!

(Signed) ————

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this —— day of ——, 1863.

You can readily imagine what a flutter this has caused in the ranks of the Secesh. Any one reading the form of oath here required can hardly imagine how any one pretending to a particle of soul or manhood could subscribe to it with any arrière pensée, and yet, a Secesh told a friend of mine, the other day, when asked what he was going to do—take the oath, or leave—"Oh, just as all the rest have done; take it over the left.

It will be well, however, for these people to be warned in time, and not attempt to get around Gen. BANKS, by laying such willful perjury on their souls. There is not one man who subscribes to that oath but will henceforth find himself under a sort of moral microscope, in the hand of every loyal man in the place. He has studied human nature but little who does not know that men of kindly and confiding natures, like Gen. BANKS', are those whose souls revolt most instinctively against anything like willful deception. Therefore, the very leniency of the General's past administration will probably make him only ten times more vigilant against offenders; and if he catches one, he may, in severity, be found to out-Butler BUTLER.

It is really quite amusing to spend an hour at the headquarters of Gen. BOWEN. People—principally ladies—are constantly flocking in, to try if there is no possible way of avoiding the dreadful alternative of starvation in Dixie or bowing to the horrible Yankee flag. Some have long, desponding faces—some have a haughty bearing, as if they scorned the very favors they had come to try and get; some, again, vainly appeal to the conscience of the venerable Capt. NOTT, "as a father," while others as vainly waste their bewitching smiles upon that fascinating young officer, Lieut. MILNER BROWN, neither of whom can swerve one inch from the inexorable duty of swearing them in, or banishing them to Dixie.

THE PRISONERS AT ALGIERS.

While the fair ladies and the "chivalry" hereabouts find it so difficult to swallow Gen. BANKS' dose of loyalty, it is different with the poor fellows who have been taken prisoners, and who have gone through all the horrors of rebel despotism. These are daily flocking over from Algiers by hundreds, to gratuitously enrol themselves once more under the good old flag. I met about a dozen of them yesterday on the staircase landing at Gen. BOWEN'S. They had just got their "passes" to go back to their distressed families, whom many of them had not seen for a year, and whom they did not know if they should find alive or dead. I wish some of your Northern believers in Southern "unity," and the devotion of the Southern masses to their rulers, would just come here to witness the joy of these poor fellows at their escape, and hear their story of how they were mercilessly dragged from their dependent families, to risk their lives, and murder their brethren in a cause they abhor.

HIGHLY EXCITING NEWS.

We were in the midst of the jubilee about the arrival of Col. GRIERSON, when the Era brought out an extra with the following stirring paragraphs:

"Admiral PORTER has made a junction with FARRAGUT. PORTER has four iron-clads and several gunboats.

Grand Gulf is captured, with all its guns.

Gen. GRANT is on the east side of the Mississippi River, driving the enemy before him. The rebels lost 400 prisoners and many killed and wounded.

Capt. HOWARD DWIGHT was murdered yesterday by guerrillas, near Washington.

[The above information is official.]

Besides this the Era publishes what is considered an official statement, that a large part of the forces under Gen. HUNTER, and most of the iron clads recently engaged at Charleston, are now on their way to this department. It adds: "We believe that in twenty days both Mobile and Galveston will be in our possession."

So, you see we have plenty to occupy and elate us here. I proceed at once forward and hope to date my next letter from Alexandria, and to tell you that I saw the old flag floating over it. The health of the city continues excellent; everything is bright, and everybody in the best of spirits.

Important News from Opelousas—Great Excitement at the Opera—Important Order from Gen. Banks—The New "Corps d' Afrique."

NEW-ORLEANS, Friday, May 8, 1863.

I reopen my letter, on the very eve of my departure, to tell you that the glorious news has reached us from Opelousas, fully confirming the capture of Grand Gulf—over which the Union flag now waves—the splendid successes of Gen. GRANT, and the summary flight of the rebels toward Jackson. The spoils at Grand Gulf were seven large guns, spiked, and all the tents, cooking utensils, and camp equipage of the garrison, which consisted of 1,000 riflemen, and the gunners of the batteries.

As the brigade of Gen. OSTERHAUS, in advance, approached Port Gibson, they met hundreds of families flying there, as a last refuge, from the interior of Mississippi and the dreadful Illinois cavalry. These poor people must have been terrified indeed when they found themselves jumping from the frying-pan right into the fire.

These fugitives confirm all that we had learnt here of the terrible havoc made throughout the State of Mississippi by the cavalry of Col. GRIERSON. They say the damage done is utterly irreparable, in the present condition of the country—locomotives, cars, commissary stores, &c., which they have no possible means of replacing.

Credible rumors are afloat in Opelousas that Port Hudson is being actually evacuated; that Gen. DWIGHT'S division had really reached Alexandria, on the Red River, and our whole army were nearing it, with no enemy in front. Before this letter starts northward on its destination, all this will probably be matter of history, and may have reached you in some other direction.

EXCITEMENT AT THE OPERA.

A serious disturbance occurred at the Opera House last night, but fortunately did not terminate as many expected it would. A large and very respectable audience—including many Union families—had met on the occasion of a benefit to a much esteemed and talented young cantatrice. The performances had gone on most agreeably for about an hour, when a sudden call was made, among the audience in all parts of the house for "Hail Columbia," and simultaneously a number of Union flags were being waved in every direction.

As the outcry continued and kept increasing in force, the players came back and gave the fine old song amid the most intense enthusiasm. The performance then proceeded as before—everybody, apparently, quite satisfied—and many frightened ladies, who had risen to follow those who had actually left the house, were reassured and resumed their seats.

But, by and by, just after a charming duet had been concluded, a cry arose, from some few voices, for the "Star Spangled Banner," followed by still more general and vociferous calls for "Yankee Doodle." Upon this Dr. DORTIE—a very prominent Unionist here—got up in the parquette, and hoped that, as their wish had once been gratified, they would keep quiet and let the concert go on. Capt. MILLER, the Mayor, also sprang to his feet and said that, as a national air had been played, he would allow no further interruption,—but his voice was drowned by loud cries of "Yankee Doodle!" "We will have Yankee Doodle;" accompanied by sinister cries against the Mayor—(who firmly kept his ground)—of "He's a traitor!" "Put him down!" &c.

The affair, at this time, was becoming quite alarming. A large number of military officers were present and, generally, seemed to side with the position taken by the Mayor, who declared he had a sufficient police force to insure order, and would use it if necessary. A Lieutenant of Zouaves here brought the excitement to a culmination by walking up to a young man who was persistently waving a flag, snatched it from him, and put it into his bosom, amid jeering cries of "Copperhead," "traitor," &c., to which he made no reply, as he resumed his seat among some other officers near the Mayor.

The whole scene now became as uproarious as it was disgraceful. Taunts and angry epithets were freely bandied about among civilians and officers, while the panic-struck ladies, momentarily expecting a collision, were hurriedly preparing to leave the building. Dr. DORTIE brought the thing to a sudden close, by calling upon all Unionists to leave the house and let the Copperheads remain, upon which large numbers marched out, amid loud cheers, and considerably thinning the house.

The few who remained seemed to have no further relish for the concert, still less had the performers, and so the whole affair rapidly broke up;—the Mayor and Col. HOPKINS, Chief of Police, remaining to the last to keep order.

It is quite time that such disgraceful manifestations should cease, for such petty uprisings are precisely materials out of which grow larger troubles. The Unionists have had abundant cause to feel enraged, at the same time that no law-abiding citizen could countenance such modes of redress as the one just discribed. They have been constantly exasperated by seeing the flag of their country insulted in the broad face of day—hearing secesh songs poisoning the air from every open widow,—meeting, at every street corner, females insolently parading traitor badges on their person, and all this with no further prevention from the authorities than some petty fine from Judge PEABODY, amounting more to insult and mockery than satisfaction.

In "chivalric" France—when the allies took possession of Paris—if any Bonapartist lady, no matter how lofty or beautiful, had the impudence to show herself at the opera or on the public streets with the Bonapartist badge about her, a gen-d'-arme politely tapped her on the shoulder, and called her ladyship to order. Why should we be more kid-gloved and nice about this matter? If even that was not tolerated from women, who imagines that the allies would, for one moment, have permitted men to be hoisting Bonaparte flags, singing Bonaparte songs, and cursing his conquerors in broad day-light?

So much for our side. On the other hand, no private individuals have any right to take the law in their own hands in such matters. Extend the principle, and at every place of innocent amusement, every harmless social gathering, any drunken fool might come in and break up the enjoyment of hundreds of respectable people quite as loyal as himself.

> "The daw's not reckoned a religious bird

and so every blatant ass, who chooses, upon any and every occasion, to be braving his spread-eagleism, is not, necessarily, a bit more loyal than his neighbors.

Gen. BANKS is not omnipotent and omnipresent, and, therefore, can hardly be expected, just now, in the midst of his brilliant military career, to be giving to such a question as this the immediate attention it merits. That he will do so when brought to his notice, no one can doubt who knows him. To satisfy the natural and justifiable desires of the loyal, no secesh manifestations whatever—whether in conversation, badges or songs—should be permitted, under the heaviest penalties; and the United States flag should be commanded to be prominently placed over every public building—whether church, theatre or school. This homage once exacted from those whose pride it should be to offer it gratuitously, let him punish any one—Unionist or Secessionist—who dares to commit any act against the public peace of the community.

IMPORTANT NEW ORDER FROM GEN. BANKS.

Gen. BANKS has just issued a new order, (No. 40,) which I inclose and in which you will find the ring of the true metal. In the present condition of things, it is one of the most important that has yet issued from his pen. His purpose is to organize a Corps d'Armée of colored troops, to be designated as the "Corps d'Afrique." Are we not rapidly approaching "the beginning of the end?"

The General goes a little out of the way, in his pungent and eloquent style, to argue the position he has taken; and it is difficult to see how any opposers can meet his arguments from historic precedent. This is no organization to be considered the mere "scum" of the army. On the contrary, he "desires to detail, for temporary or permanent duty, the best officers of the army for the organization, instruction and discipline of the corps. With their aid, he is confident that the corps will render important service to the Government."

To quiet the fastidious qualms of those who fear that negroes are going to marry our sisters and daughters, if we permit them to take their share in defence of a Government in which they have an interest at stake, he tells us what any body but Copperheads can understand:

"It is not established upon any dogma of equality or other theory, but as a practical and sensible matter of business. The Government makes use of mules, horses, uneducated and educated white men, in the defence of its institutions. Why should not the negro contribute whatever is in his power for the cause in which he is as deeply interested as other men? We may properly demand from him whatever service he can render."

If any one has a lingering doubt of Gen. BANKS' sagacity, or earnestness, in this struggle, it is to be presumed this last order will disabuse them, if the last month or two of his glorious career had not done so already. That this order did not come out before, is only another proof of his patience and foresight. The fruit was too green before; it is now fully ripe for plucking. No one but those who have had a peep into the inner life of our armies can comprehend the huge mass of insane prejudices, Copperhead influences, and dainty "West-Pointism," which the Commanding General of this Department had to overthrow, before he determined on this memorable Order. No one but those who are aware of the unaccountable absurdities still pervading the minds of many officers and soldiers, upon this negro question, can thoroughly appreciate the deep significance of the following passage:

"Officers and soldiers will consider the exigencies of the service in this Department, and the absolute necessity of appropriating every element of power to the support of the Government. The prejudices or opinions of men are in no wise involved."

CORPS D'AFRIQUE.

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF THE GULF,
NINETEENTH ARMY-CORPS,
OPELOUSAS, May 1, 1863.

GENERAL ORDERS No. 40.—The Major-General commanding the Department proposes the organization of a Corps d'Armée of colored troops, to be designated as the "Corps d'Afrique." It will consist ultimately of eighteen regiments, representing all arms—infantry, artillery, cavalry—making nine brigades of two regiments each, and three divisions of three brigades each, with appropriate corps of engineers, and flying hospitals for each division. Appropriate uniforms, and the graduation of pay to correspond with the value of services, will be hereafter awarded.

In the field the efficiency of every corps depends upon the influence of its officers upon the troops engaged, and the practical limits of one direct command is generally estimated at 1,000 men. The most eminent military historians and commanders, among others THIERS and CHAMBRAY, express the opinion upon a full review of the elements of military power, that the valor of the soldier is rather acquired than natural. Nations whose individual heroism is undisputed, have failed as soldiers in the field. The European and American continents exhibit instances of this character, and the military prowess of every nation may be estimated by the centuries it has devoted to military contest, or the traditional passion of its people for military glory. With a race unaccustomed to military service, much more depends on the immediate influence of officers upon individual members, than with those that have acquired more or less of warlike habits and spirit by centuries of contest. It is deemed best, therefore, in the organization of the Corps d'Afrique, to limit the regiment to the smallest number of men consistent with efficient service in the field, in order to secure the most thorough instruction and discipline, and the largest influence of the officers over the troops. At first they will be limited to five hundred men. The average of American regiments is less than that number.

The Commanding General desires to detail for temporary or permanent duty the best officers of the army for the organization, instruction and discipline of this corps. With their aid he is confident that the corps will render important service to the Government. It is not established upon any dogma of equality or other theory, but as a practical and sensible matter of business. The Government makes use of mules, horses, uneducated and educated white men in the defence of its institutions. Why should not the negro contribute whatever is in his power for the cause in which he is as deeply interested as other men? We may properly demand from him whatever service he can render. The chief defect in organizations of this character has arisen from incorrect ideas of the officers in command. Their discipline has been lax, and in some cases the conduct of their regiments unsatisfactory and discreditable. Controversies unnecessary and injurious to the service have arisen between them and other troops. The organization proposed will reconcile and avoid many of these troubles.

Officers and soldiers will consider the exigencies of the service in this Department, and the absolute necessity of appropriating every element of power to the support of the Government. The prejudices or opinions of men are in no wise involved. The coöperation and active support of all officers and men, and the nomination of fit men from the ranks, and from the lists of non-commissioned and commissioned officers, are respectfully solicited from the Generals commanding the respective divisions.

By command of Maj.-Gen. BANKS.

THE GREAT RAID IN MISSISSIPPI.

A Detailed Narrative of the Exploits of Our Cavalry.

In obedience to orders of Col. B. H. GRIERSON, commanding the First cavalry brigade, Col. EDWARD PRINCE moved with his regiment, the Seventh Illinois cavalry volunteers—542, officers and men—from Lagrange, Tenn., at 10 o'clock A. M., on the 17th of April, 1863, on the Ripley road, and camped on the plantation of Dr. ELLIS, four miles northwest of Ripley, Miss.—distance about 30 miles.

The order of march for this day was to be as follows: Sixth Illinois in advance, Lieut.-Col. REUBEN LOOMIS, commanding; followed by Seventh Illinois and Second Iowa; but the Sixth Illinois taking the wrong road near Lagrange, was thrown to the west, and did not rejoin the command till near camp. As the Seventh Illinois was just going into camp, Col. PRINCE discovered a party of five or six rebels crossing a field, and immediately sent a party in pursuit, who captured three of the number.

On the 18th—the Seventh Illinois moving in advance—they left camp at 8 o'clock, passing through Ripley, and moved South towards New Albany. Our battalion was detailed under command of Capt. GRAHAM, who took the direct road to that place, where they arrived in time to save the bridge across the Tallahatchie, and drive away a picket endeavoring to destroy it. They repaired the bridge and crossed into town. The rest of the command crossed three miles east of New Albany, and arrived in town at 5½ P. M., whence the command—Sixth and Seventh Illinois—moved South, and camped on Mr. SLOAN'S plantation, four miles South of New-Albany.

At Ripley, Miss., Col. HATCH, in command of the Second Iowa, had been detached to move eastwardly, and thence southwardly, to cross the Tallahatchie some five miles above New-Albany, with a view of rejoining the brigade some five or six miles below New-Albany, which Col. HATCH accomplished the following day with good success. On this day, the 18th, the advance of the Seventh Illinois captured four prisoners—two of BARTEAU'S and two of WETHERALL'S command.

On the morning of the 19th two companies were sent, under command of Capt. TRAFTON, back to the Tallahatchie, and he drove a force out of New-Albany, and joined the command at 10 A. M. Col. PRINCE also sent two companies to the right, to look after Capt. WETHERALL'S company of cavalry, but the latter had retired during the night. This detachment, however, captured three prisoners from Maj. CHALMERS' command, and destroyed some camp and garrison equipage. Two companies were also sent to the left, to look after some horses said to be hid in the woods; and they returned at 10 o'clock, with very good success. The command left camp at 10 o'clock, and passed through Pontotoc at 4 o'clock P. M. They encamped on the estate of Mr. WETHERALL, eight miles south of Pontotoc. The distance marched on the 18th and 19th was about 60 miles. On the 19th the Sixth Illinois marched in advance, and at Pontotoc killed a rebel who persistently continued to fire upon the advance. His name was RENO.

20th.—They left camp at 4 o'clock A. M. Sixty men and a number of lead horses, in charge of Lieut. WILT, were sent back to La Grange. About the same number were sent back from the other regiments; all under command of Maj. LOVE, of the Second Iowa. They encamped at Clear Springs, Miss., having passed around Houston—the Second Iowa in advance. The distance marched was about 40 miles.

21st.—They left camp at daylight, the Seventh Illinois in advance. Col. HATCH and the Second Iowa turned eastward from Clear Springs, with orders to proceed toward Columbus and destroy the Mobile and Ohio Railroad as much as possible. The gallant Colonel has unfortunately not been heard of since, except through the Memphis Appeal, which says that near Okolona he was met by a large Confederate force, was himself seriously wounded and lost fifteen men. The remainder, it is to be hoped, got safely back to La Grange. It rained all day on the 21st. The two Illinois regiments passed through Starkville, and camped eight miles south of that place. Distance traveled this day, 45 miles.

22d.—They marched at daylight. Capt. FORBES, of Company C, Seventh Illinois, was detached 10 miles south of Starkville, to proceed to Macon, on the Mobile and Ohio Railroad, to break up the rails, destroy the wires, and do all the damage in his power to the enemy's transportation.

From the time the command left Starkville, Cols. GRIERSON and PRINCE, in consultation, felt thoroughly convinced that it was of the utmost importance that the railroad—or, at all events, the telegraph—should be interrupted between Okolona and Macon, as near

MESSAGE FROM HIS HONOR THE MAYOR.

The following message was received from His Honor the Mayor, returning unapproved a resolution directing the Comptroller to sell the ferry leases from James-slip to Bridge-street and South Sixth-street, Brooklyn:

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
NEW-YORK, May 15, 1863.

To the Honorable the Board of Aldermen:

GENTLEMEN:

I return, without my approval, the accompanying resolution directing the Comptroller "to advertise and sell at public auction a lease for a ferry or ferries from the slip or basin between Piers thirty-two and thirty-three, East River, New-York," (foot of Oliver-street and James slip) "and the slip foot of Bridge-street, Brooklyn. And also for a lease of a ferry from said slip or basin between Piers thirty-two and thirty-three, East River, New-York, to the foot of South Sixth-street, Brooklyn, Eastern District, or such point adjacent thereto as hereinafter provided, for the term of ten years from the first day of May, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, and the parties purchasing such ferry lease or leases at such sale shall procure, at their own risk and expense, the slips herein designated," &c.

There are three ferries already established within a few hundred feet of this locality, from which eight boats, I am informed, are constantly running. The convenience of the public, therefore, does not appear to require the proposed additional ferry. On the other hand, it is evident that to increase the number of boats, especially as some of those to be run under the proposed lease must cross the track of the other eight boats, would greatly add to the danger of life and property from collision, and increase the difficulty of the navigation of that part of the East River. During the last year, as I am informed, a ferry boat was sunk in this part of the East River from collision with one of the Long Island Sound steamboats, and again from collision with a ferry boat from the Jackson-street Ferry.

Beside this increase of danger, which should be avoided, there is another consideration which should have weight in determining as to the establishment of a new ferry at the place in question. The shipping of the port has not, at that part of the East River, the accommodation which it needs. A portion of two good piers, with the basin and bulkhead lying between them, would be occupied by the proposed ferry, which would thus very materially lessen the room for shipping, already too small. The mercantile and shipping interests which have built up our City are too important to be safely disregarded in these matters.

Your resolution provides further that, "at any time prior to the said first day of May, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, and thereafter, until such ferries are put into operation, under and in pursuance of such sale, William Marvin, John G. Bell, and their associates or their assigns, are hereby authorized to erect the necessary racks, bridges, ferry-houses, and so forth, in said slips, (providing, however, they shall lease or procure the use of said slips at their own cost and expense,) and establish and run suitable ferry-boats for the accommodation of the public, and charge the usual rates of ferriage thereon, and the ferry-landing thus secured and established in Brooklyn, Eastern District, shall constitute the slip or landing in said district contemplated in this resolution."

This appears to me to be in contravention of the forty-first section of the Charter, which provides that "all ferries, docks, piers and slips shall be leased, and all leases and sales of public property and 'franchises' shall be made by public auction, and to the highest bidder, who will give adequate security." The part of your resolution last above quoted does in effect give to WILLIAM MARVIN, JOHN G. BELL and their associates, or their assigns, without compensation to the City, and without a sale at public auction, or the requirement of any security, the right to run a ferry at the localities specified, and for a period extending from the present time until the first of May, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, and thereafter until the ferries first provided for in the resolution shall be put in operation. Should that be done, the grant to Mr. Marvin and his associates or assigns would be practically in perpetuity.

This seems to me not only clearly illegal, but exceedingly injudicious, and I am therefore obliged to withhold my sanction from it.

GEORGE OPDYKE, Mayor.

Which was received and directed to be entered at length in the minutes, and laid upon the table ten days.

A message was received from His Honor, the Mayor, relative to powder magazines within the City limits, and recommending the repeal of all ordinances permitting the same

Which was received and referred to the Committee on Ordinances.

MONDAY, May 18 - A. M.

The business of the past week was on a liberal scale in the Export movement of domestic Produce, although the effect of the reopening of Lake and Canal navigation is yet to be felt in the subsequent returns of the trade. The first arrivals of Grain, Flour, &c., by Canal were reported about the middle of the week. These are mainly from Oswego and Rochester. The first important shipments from Buffalo will probably arrive in a day or two, if not seriously impeded by the reported breaks in the Canal. The reopening of navigation is already affording a better selection of Grain and Flour for export, especially of Indian Corn, and while the English crop weather is said to be promising, the last markets from London and Liverpool are reported higher, partly owing to the falling off in American arrivals, and partly from the apprehension that supplies from the extreme North of Europe may be interrupted by the Polish insurrection. Altogether there would seem to be no reasonable question that we shall have an active Export movement, at good prices, through the Summer months. The steadiness in the price of Gold Coin, which has scarcely varied from 150 ₩ cent. in the last fortnight—this being the closing figure on Saturday last, as on Saturday the 2d of May—will enable shippers to execute their orders upon a reasonable calculation as to the course of Exchange. The Export of Gold thus far in May is much below that of last season, as it was also through the month of April. The fac arises in good part out of the heavy forced shipments early in the previous month by way of settling up the extravagant speculation in Gold Coin, after it had broken down 20 ₩ cent. Another cause for the falling off, is in the change of shipments from San Francisco to England, direct; these being equivalent to a corresponding amount of exchange drawn from New-York. It affords us much pleasure to add that the accounts from the Northwest of the growing crops are of the most cheering nature, and that the indications of last year's reserves in that quarter of Grain and Provisions are equally encouraging. The receipts of Grain at Chicago to the second week in May are about 3,500,000 ahead of the same weeks in the season of 1862, and the prospect is that for the whole year this important granary of the West will afford seventy millions of bushels, as against 56,894,000 bushels in 1862—the largest receipts ever before known.

In financial affairs, the Government Loan of 1862 continues the great absorbent of the surplus means of the country at large. The Loan Agent of the Government, Mr. JAY COOKE, of Philadelphia, and his correspondents, Messrs. VERMILYE & Co., LIVERMORE, CLEWS & Co., and FISK & HATCH, in this City, are receiving subscriptions to the average of nearly two millions per day, in addition to which many of the local applications are made to the Treasury direct, and important sales are also made of the Bonds every day by Messrs THOMPSON BROTHERS. The Treasury is thus kept with a larger balance than usual in this City, and as the process of converting and reconverting the United States Currency into the New Loan at par, will go on until the 3d of June—and after the 1st of that month, if not sooner, on a greatly increased scale—there is no talk or likelihood of other Funded negotiations by the Secretary of the Treasury, until this voluntary privilege expires. The balance in his New-York office on Saturday night was $25,169,192.

Next to the Public Loan, the interest of the past week centered in the Stock Exchange, where, as during the previous week, the speculation was active and confidence very strong on the Railway list, owing to the general heavy traffic from the West and to certain local and peculiar influences of feeling, and greatly stimulating the shares of the Harlem, Hudson River and Reading roads. The circumstance that in the previous upward movement in prices last Fall and Winter, nearly all the Mortgages of the Western and New-York roads were run up to prices which no longer held out any strong inducement to speculate in them, has also contributed to the concentration of the present interest in the Shares. Last week there was a partial diversion of attention to the cheaper Mortgages of two or three of the Western roads, and to the 6 ₩ cents of the State of Missouri and Tennessee, and the City Bank Shares also rapidly advanced. The general advance of the past fortnight is thus marked:

The Stock Market was extremely active again on Saturday, and the sales enormously heavy on the Railway Share list, and unusually spirited upon the State 6 ₩ cents of Missouri and Tennessee, which, for some time past, had been neglected by speculation. Missouris were in demand at 69⅞@70 ₩ cent., and in the afternoon a large line of Tennessees taken at 65 ₩ cent. The Railway Bonds were also in active demand, but the offerings, except of a few of the Western descriptions, which are rapidly advancing from the low prices at which they were recently selling, are not sufficient to meet any considerable orders, either of an investment or speculative nature. The Land Grants of the Mississippi and Missouri Road, and the Second Mortgages of the Northwest, continue to attract attention. The notable additional advance since Friday on the Railway Shares is 5 ₩ cent on Harlem, a renewed speculation in which above par is going on in anticipation of the annual election of Directors this week, and the reorganization of the concern for the immediate building of the Broadway road. The Preference Shares also advanced 4@6 ₩ cent. All the Michigan Stocks were buoyant, Central 4 ₩ cent. and Guaranteed 5 ₩ cent. higher than on Friday. Erie, Rock Island, New-York Central, Fort Wayne and Pittsburgh were each 1@1½ ₩ cent. higher than on Friday. At 4 o'clock, after a large business through the day, the market left off firm at about the following figures, as compared with Friday night:

The demand for United States Stocks, Saturday, amount to over two millions—$2,124,450—in this City alone, for the 5-20 year 6 ₩ cents, of which $1,550,000 was paid for through the Loan Agents, and the remainder at the Treasury direct. The Loans of 1881 and Treasury paper of all descriptions continue in demand at the Stock Board, and at the counters of the leading Money Brokers. The speculation in Gold Coin was tame at about 150 ₩ cent. Exchange on London 165 ₩ cent. The export demand for Gold and Silver for the week amounts to $662,000. The arrival from California on Saturday $306,000. Money is largely employed on the Stock Exchange at 5@6 ₩ cent.; the general rule being 6 ₩ cent. The supply is liberal; but the immense volume of business in Stocks and the increased market values give the appearance of an active daily demand upon lenders.

With reference to the market for American securities, Mr. E. F. SATTERTHWAITE reports by the last mail as follows:

"During the past week the market in London for American Securities has been characterized by the dullness we noted in our last, and quotations further gave way. To-day, however, the tone has a good deal improved, owing to the better prices received from New-York, with at the same time a lower rate of exchange. The settlement this account shows rather a scarcity of stock, there being borrowers of both Illinois and Erie shares at the finish. United States unindorsed Bonds and Virginia 6 ₩ cent. Bonds are also scarce for delivery. For Erie shares we have to note a more active inquiry since the publication of the traffic returns for March, which amount to the large sum $946,040, being very nearly as much as the aggregate of the first three months of the year 1859, which added together were $996,597. The extraordinary returns this Company is now receiving render it almost a certainty that they will be able to declare a good dividend for the first six months of this present year; in fact we see no reason why the Erie shareholders should not receive an equal dividend with the shareholders in the New-York Central."

NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE REBELLION.

By the arrival at this port of the steamship George Washington, we receive highly important intelligence from the Department of the Gulf. She left New-Orleans on the 10th inst. On that day Admiral FARRAGUT, with several other officers, arrived in New-Orleans, with the news that early on the morning of the 6th, Admiral PORTER, with his own and a portion of FARRAGUT'S fleet, captured Alexandria, on the Red River, and that on the evening of the same day, Gen. DWIGHT'S cavalry, the advance of Gen. BANK'S army, entered the place, thus affecting a junction between the land and naval forces. Previous to the capture of Alexandria—on the 4th—the gunboats Albatros, Estrella and Arizona proceeded up the Red River on a reconnoissance, and had an engagement with Fort De Russy, resulting in its capture. Two rebel gunboats took part in the engagement, one of which was disabled by a shot in her boiler, when the other made her escape up the river. A rumor had reached New-Orleans that Port Hudson was being evacuated. It will be recollected that Gen. GRANT, a few days ago, notified the War Department that it had been evacuated, except by a small garrison and the heavy artillery. Gen. BRAGG had issued an order proposing the organization of a corps d'armée of colored troops, to be designated as the Corps d'Afrique. It is to consist ultimately of eighteen regiments, representing all arms—making nine brigades of two regiments each, and three divisions of three brigades each.

Our New-Orleans correspondent confirms the report published in the Memphis Bulletin, that Col. GRIERSON had arrived safely with his command at Baton Rouge. He reached that place on the 2d inst. A full history of his important operations will be found elsewhere in this morning's TIMES. In seventeen days they traveled over 800 miles through the heart of Mississippi, had numerous fights—killing and wounding numbers of the enemy, and taking hundreds of prisoners, horses and contrabands; destroyed millions of property in bridges, trestles, cars, ammunition, &c., with miles of telegraph—and all with the astonishingly small loss of one man killed and six wounded! Col. GRIERSON and his coadjutor, Col. PRINCE, of the Seventh Illinois cavalry, had a great reception at New Orleans, where they had arrived.

The news from Gen. GRANT'S army is important. The Richmond Enquirer of Friday, states that our forces on Thursday advanced, 1,000 strong, upon Raymond, seven miles from the railroad connecting Vicksburgh and Jackson, and about fifteen miles from the latter place. Gen. GREGG held the place with 4,150 rebel infantry and a few cavalry. Skirmishing commenced at 9 o'clock in the morning. Our forces were gradually reinforced until 1 o'clock, when, after a heavy musketry fire, the enemy retreated through Raymond, and fell back on reinforcements at Mississippi Springs, in the direction of Jackson. Here the battle was renewed on Friday, and at last accounts the firing was heavy and continuous. A later rebel dispatch announces that Gen. GRANT has captured Jackson.

Senators WADE and CHANDLER returned to Washington on Saturday evening, from a visit to to the Army of the Potomac. They report the troops in the most effective condition and in the best of spirits. It has been ascertained by reconnoissances that during the night of the 14th the enemy threw up additional extensive earthworks, along the ridge of hills in the rear and to the left of Fredericksburgh. Another report is that every available soldier now on detached service in and around Washington, Baltimore, and on the railroads in Virginia and Maryland, is to be forwarded to Gen. HOOKER—their places to be supplied with Pennsylvania militia.

The Richmond Enquirer, of the 14th, announces that five or six transports landed National troops at West Point on the day previous, and that the men were engaged in throwing up intrenchments across the point between the Mattapony and the Pamunkey Rivers.

A rebel telegram from Tullahoma, dated the 12th, states that Gen. ROSECRANS was having all his heavy baggage and tents removed to the rear, to Nashville. This intelligence is said to have been obtained through the medium of scouts.

Lieut. PHELPS, commanding the Tennessee division of the Mississippi squadron, notifies the Navy Department of a dashing affair by our cavalry, in which he rendered valuable assistance. On the night of the 12th, he took on board a detachment of the First Western Tennessee cavalry, and landed them on the east side of the Tennessee River. The cavalry proceeded across the country to Linden, where they surprised a camp of rebel cavalry, and captured a number of officers and men, with the entire appurtenances of the camp. The rebels had three men killed; our loss was one horse.

FROM EUROPE.

The steamship City of New-York arrived at this port late last night, with four days later advices from Europe. She left Liverpool on the 6th, and Queenstown on the 7th inst. A deputation of Trade Unionists waited on Mr. ADAMS, our Minister in London, on the 2d, and presented the addresses recently adopted at a public meeting. Mr. ADAMS made a reply of considerable length, in which he alluded to the relations of Great Britain and the United States in a manner which seems to have pleased the London Press. Parliamentary proceedings had been unimportant. The replies of Russia to England, France and Austria on the Polish question had been declined, and and were regarded as unsatisfactory. Several successes of the revolutionists against the Russians are reported. Prices of Cotton had advanced in the Liverpool market. Breadstuffs were dull, and Provisions steady. Consols were quoted at 93⅞—a decline.

GENERAL NEWS.

The ships Emerald and Hemisphere, which arrived at this port yesterday from Liverpool, report having encountered immense quantities of drift ice on the passage.

A meeting was held in Albany on Saturday to protest against the arrest and trial of VALLANDIGHAM. Speeches were made by Hon. AMASA J. PARKER and others, and a letter condemning the arrest, from Gov. SEYMOUR, was read. An attempt was made to break up the meeting, by—the dispatch says—some returned soldiers, but it did not succeed.

The steamship Ocean Queen, from Aspinwall on the 8th, arrived at this port, Saturday morning, bringing $306,183 in treasure, the California mail and passengers, and later intelligence from Central and South America. The news from South America is of no importance. From Guatemala we hear of the inauguration of a new revolution, which, however, was speedily put down by CARRERA, though its occurrence prevented his contemplated second invasion of Salvador. The revolution in Nicaragua still continued, notwithstanding a defeat suffered by JEREZ. Costa Rica remained quiet.

A meeting in aid of the New-York Young Men's Christian Association was held at the Twenty-third-street Dutch Reformed Church last evening. The President of the Association, Mr. S. W. STEBBINS, made a brief statement of its objects and history, and Rev. E. V. KIRK, D. D., of Boston, preached the sermon. A bountiful collection was taken up in aid of the cause.

A meeting in behalf of the Tabernacle of the Christian Alliance was held last evening at the City Assmbly Rooms. Maj.-Gen ANDERSON presided, and appropriate addresses were made by Rev. C. C. GOSS, Hon. DANIEL S. DICKENSON, CHAUNCEY SCHAFFER, Rev. JOHN S. MITCHELL, D. D., and others.

The Stock Market was buoyant, at advancing prices on Saturday. Gold Coin steady at 150; Exchange 165; Money in large employment at 5 @ 6 ℔ cent. The absorption by the New Loan of the United States, was $2,124,450. It is understood that the new Harlem direction to be made at the annual meeting of the Company this week, will have immediate relation to the Broadway extension.

Less extensive transactions were reported in Breadstuffs on Saturday, though prices were much lower. Provisions were also rather less freely purchased at previous figures. Sugars, Molasses, Hay, Rice and Tallow were in good request. Cotton was dull and irregular. Whisky was very quiet and a shade cheaper. The sales of most other articles were quite moderate. Heavier freight engagements were effected, chiefly of grain for British ports, at firmer rates. There were 588 vessels of all classes in port.

Time as an Ally.

In almost every struggle, Time is sure to figure as a great ally, on the one side or the other; and the whole result often depends upon the question whether this ally can be secured or not. FABIUS saved Rome from HANNIBAL chiefly by obtaining it, and turning it to the best account. The enemies of NAPOLEON were overthrown mainly because almost uniformly deprived of it by his terrible celerity. The Southern revolutionists owed all their first success more to the fact that the last Administration allowed them time than to all other things combined. It was Mr. BUCHANAN'S fatal mistake. Had he garrisoned the Southern forts with promptitude, as Gen. SCOTT entreated him to do, and used with proper dispatch his other powers called for by the occasion, the secession movement might have been checked. He gave it time, and it soon acquired a breadth and strength that enabled it to sweep the whole cotton region, from the Atlantic to the Rio Grande. The different action of the Border States was determined entirely by the fact whether the Unionists obtained the advantage of time or not. In Virginia they did not, as the State was hurled out of the Union by the Convention in the storm of excitement following Sumter, before the people had time to deliberate. In Kentucky they did, the Unionists gaining time by the temporary device of what was called the neutrality plan. In Maryland they did, through the interposition of the President, who ordered the arrest of the legislators just on the eve of launching their secession ordinance. In Missouri they did, through the summary action of Gen. LYON in breaking up Camp Jackson. After the war had fairly opened, it was, however, by our own slow operations that time was given to the rebels to make their immense levies, and to arm and equip them, that they acquired such prodigious military power. Had we made a mighty effort to raise and arm soldiers, and struck both promptly and skillfully, the rebellion would probably have been crushed in its first year. But we gave it time to develop and compact itself, and the consequence has been that, for the last year, it has been quite our match.

Time has done almost everything for the rebels. It has given them about all the success they have yet secured. But it has now done all for them that it can or will. Henceforth it works for us. Hitherto every day has strengthened them; henceforth every day must weaken them. Their armies, through the universality of the conscription have attained their utmost possible maximum, and hereafter, through disease and battle, must grow smaller and smaller. Through our perpetual blockade their supplies of all the necessaries of life must constantly diminish. Through the vastly increased cost of rations, clothing and munition, the cost of the war to the rebel government is increasing at a rate which is becoming more and more burdensome; and the paper which is issued to meet this cost is daily accelerating the complete ruin of the currency. The one sole thing in which the rebels hoped that time at this stage of the struggle would serve them, has failed completely. We mean the chance that the Foreign Powers, wearied with the prolongation of the war, would interfere and stop it. But it is now virtually settled, that however long our national Government may choose to wage this war, there will be no foreign intervention—that the Foreign Powers will suffer any dearth of cotton for any period rather than make themselves parties to this conflict. Time has nothing to promise the rebels in this direction; while it now works against them in every other.

This fact is so plain that it is recognized even in Richmond. Says the Richmond Enquirer—"They did not care for delay, for it is our people who are suffering, not theirs. The longer this style of warfare lasts * * * the more of our national resources they will have ruined and wasted, and the better chance they will have for an irresistible advance at last. They are in no hurry. Last year, indeed, there was urgent haste to get the rebellion crushed in thirty days or ninety; now we hear much less of this vehement urgency, and the whole Yankee nation seems to have laid out its accounts for war as the settled business of life, rather than consent to peace and separation." This is a correct appreciation. The North knows that whatever checks our attempts to advance may incur, they cannot affect the ultimate issue of the war; that their only effect is to give the Confederacy a little longer lease of life. Of course it is desirable that the conflict should be shortened, and the Administration will be held to a strict responsibility if, by wrong action or inaction, the war is not hastened to its consummation. But no events of the war, however adverse, can incite to an abandonment of it; for it is a dead certainty that adverse events only prolong the war, and that the prolonging of the war of itself weakens the Confederacy, and makes our final triumph the surer. The situation in fact is simply this: If we win battles, we crush the Confederacy without time—if we do not win them, Time comes in as our ally, and through it the Confederacy languishes and finally perishes. The constancy of the North in its purpose, therefore, is based not simply on faith in this strength of a righteous cause, but on a clear assurance that there is a physical necessity for the final exhaustion and succumbing of the rebel power, if we but hold on. With Time, which in the first period of the struggle did so much for the rebellion, now unchangeably and most potently on our side, there is no longer a chance for our ultimate failure. We hope to win by sheer force soon, but anyhow our success in the end is guaranteed. The Confederacy at worst can but prolong its agony.

The Romance of the War.

We have heretofore published such facts and fictions as we have been able to gather from the rebel journals that reached us from time to time, concerning the great raid of Col. the GRIERSON through the length and breadth of very long and quite broad State of Mississippi. It is just a month since the expedition started on its perilous tour, and during all that time we have known nothing of it except what we learned through rebel reports from the Southwest. Now we heard of it here, then there; now in the north, then in the centre, and sweeping all around; now fighting, now capturing towns—and so on, until both we and the rebels lost sight and knowledge of it somewhere below the centre of the State.

The expedition, however, has arrived in safety at Baton Rouge, and we are enabled this morning to present an extraordinarily interesting and reliable narrative of its wonderful exploits, from the pen of one of our Southern correspondents.

No wonder the rebels of Mississippi were startled. No wonder that the apparition of these horsemen struck with panic the entire State. Our own account more than confirms all the stories sent from Mississippi as long as the rebels had a telegraph wire or a railroad line left to send them by. Fifteen days was the time occupied by the expedition; and the points of departure and termination were, respectively, Lagrange, Tenn., and Baton Rouge, La.,—all the vast region between these places being pretty thoroughly scoured. The distance, by air-line, between Lagrange and Baton Rouge, is about 350 miles; but the distance actually traversed by the expedition through the enemy's country was eight hundred miles. The lines traversed and the points visited by the various parties into which the expedition was at different times divided, can be very accurately traced on a good map; and those who wish to see how much greater, more dangerous and more successful this raid was than all other raids, either of the rebel cavalry or our own, would do well to study it up. Now we hear of them, as we have already heard of them from the rebels, in the North, centre and South, in the East and West—now at the Tallahatchie, now at the Tombigbee, the Okanoxabee, the Pearl, the Amite and the Comite—now we hear of their capturing a town, then destroying one and another section of railroad, and then blowing up a bridge—now fighting five or six rebels, and then routing as many thousands—now capturing and paroling prisoners by scores and hundreds—capturing trains of cars, locomotives, commissary stores, guns and ammunition—traveling often night and day—making in one day 40 miles, in another 45, in another 57, over the most horrible imaginable roads; and in the last thirty hours of the raid they rode 80 miles, fought several skirmishes, destroyed bridges and camps, swam a river, and captured 42 prisoners and quantities of horses. Fortunately when human endurance could endure no longer, and mortal heroism could achieve nothing further, the starved and sleepy troopers came within hail of the Stars and stripes at Baton Rouge. Even the rebel journals had to praise the behavior of the expeditionary force to the people and the towns they met in with on the route; and it is evident from several incidents, that their whole conduct was characterized by a style of chivalry that never had a home among Southern slaveholders. The management of the expedition throughout was admirable, and as a result of this, our losses, as will be seen, were exceedingly small.

The matter is so fully dwelt upon in our correspondence that we do not think we need add anything further; but we believe the summing up of the results and effects of this expedition by our New Orleans correspondent is not at all exaggerated. It is exhilarating, in these days of misfortune and disaster in the East, to find such magnificent results being continually wrought out by our brave brethren in the West.

BEHIND THE REBEL ARMIES.—We drew the inference the other day, from the facts developed in the raids of Gen. STONEMAN and Col. GRIERSON, that, excepting the few chief points at which the rebel armies are immediately concentrated, the South is not only entirely bare of troops, but that it has been swept clean of the material out of which troops are made; and also that when its present armies are broken, the Confederacy will give us little more trouble—its backbone being then pretty effectually broken. This view, we observe, is confirmed by Col. GRIERSON himself. "I tell you, General," said Col. GRIERSON, as narrated by our New-Orleans correspondent, "no one can pass through that country without knowing that the Confederacy is broken up. It is a mere shell with nothing in it."

OPERATIONS ON THE RED RIVER.—We had intelligence from the Southwest, a week ago, that part of Admiral PORTER'S fleet had gone down the Mississippi as far as the mouth of the Red River, and ascended the latter stream. There were some fears that these vessels might suffer disastrously from the rebel batteries on the Red River which opened so fatally upon the Queen of the West, near the close of last year, and which, we were told, had been greatly strengthened of late. We also had statements from the rebels that an immense iron-clad fleet had been built or was building up the Red River, and that its whole line was swarming with rams—if rams may be said to swarm. We characterized these statements at the time as being funny rather than fearful. And so the event has proved. Three of our gunboats attacked the batteries of Fort De Russy, on the 4th instant, and soon two rebel steamboats appeared and took part in the fight. But, after a little tussle, the fort surrendered, and one of the steamers fled and the other was disabled.

PORTER then proceeded up the river as far as Alexandria, situated seventy miles from its mouth, and which of late has been honored as the headquarters of the peripatetic Gov. MOORE, and the latest rebel capital of Louisiana. Alexandria was also the point at which Gen. BANKS has been aiming in his march northward through Louisiana. It was captured by our gunboats on the morning of the 6th, and on the evening of the same day part of Gen. BANKS' cavalry dashed in and completed the work of capturing it. This is really a very important gain, as it gives Gen. BANKS' command of Louisiana, and will enable his army or part of it to proceed down the Red River with the gunboats and take a look at Port Hudson. This news disposes of the late rebel stories of disasters to Gen. BANKS.

AMUSEMENTS.

Mr. MARETZEK, having given the promised series of six performances, and throwing an extra one in to-night, by way of full measure, will—this tribulation past—retire into profitable idleness, until again goaded into industrious loss by the necessity of giving six nights more. The month of May has been anything but merry for the impressario. It has, in fact, used him scurvily. He has been ill-treated by the weather and neglected by the public. In short, he has learned that opera at this particular time is both unseasonable and unpopular. Judiciously, like a good general, but not hastily, like a bad one, he retires from the untenable position.

Four performances were given last week, namely: on Monday, "Il Trovatore;" on Wednesday, "Ione;" on Friday, "Aroldo," and on Saturday, at the matinée, "Ione" again. There were unfortunate drawbacks to the first of these performances, but on Wednesday and Friday they were unusually excellent. If the season had run into another week, we were to have had PERI'S biblical opera of "Judith;" but M. MARETZEK has reserved this for the Fall, when he will also produce VERDI'S latest opera, "La Forza del Destino."

To-night, "Ione," a work which has proved a genuine success, will be repeated for the last time, and then—a musical lull.

The announcements all round are as follows: At Wallack's Theatre the "School for Scandal;" at the Winter Garden Mr. J. S. CLARKE in the "Babes in the Wood" and "Paul Pry;" at Niblo's Garden Miss BATEMAN in "Leah;" at Laura Keene's Theatre Mrs, ENGLISH'S Troupe St. Denis will appear in a couple of pantomimes and in a rope divertissement; at Barnum's Museum BOURCICAULT'S drama of "Pauvrette" will be revived, and the Stereopticon will be exhibited as heretofore. To-morrow night at Irving Hall Mr. GOTTSCHALK will give his grand concert. It is the second of the last series under Mr. HARRISON'S management.

Mr. ROBERT GOLDBECK, whose grand symphony, called "Victoria, or Peace Struggle and Triumph," was produced with success at Irving Hall a few weeks since, will give a second performance of the work on Tuesday (to-morrow) evening, at the Academy of Music. The orchestra will number seventy-five performers, under the direction of Mr. GOLDBECK, and will play the work we have named, "Deux Morçeaux Symphonique," for the orchestra and piano, (piano part by Mr. MILLS,) and the overture to "Leonora," No. 3, in C major. The miscellaneous features of the entertainment are the romanza from "William Tell" and a song by SCHUMANN, sung by Madame JOHANNSEN; a solo for violin, by Mr. THEODORE THOMAS; a ditto for piano, by Mr. S. B. MILLS, and a private box for Gen. WOOL and Staff, who have promised to attend. Mr. GOLDBECK'S enterprise, to say nothing of his talent, deserves a positive recognition at the hands of the public.

Mr. J. J. CLARKE, whose performances at the Winter Garden are attracting most excellent and fashionable audiences, has made a very happy addition to his repertoire in a little piece called "Somebody's Coat." It is from the pen of Mr. J. G. McCLEES, of Philadelphia, a gentleman whose fame as a writer has not reached us, but who in this trifle displays a most admirable vein of downright fun. He does not flinch at the most ridiculous suggestions of his muse, and hence is thoroughly spontaneous and natural, although somewhat unruly and exaggerated. The duty of a farce-writer is to make the audience laugh, and not to indulge too much in serious composition—such as puns. Mr. McCLEES succeeds in keeping the house in a perfect roar, and only puns sufficiently to show that, although vicious, he is not hardened to this species of misdemeanor. Mr. CLARKE sustains the part of the hero with extraordinary humor. It is certainly one of his best impersonations, and introduces more comic business than any other with which we are acquainted. Not only is he funny when he has nothing to say, but funny also when he is speaking his lines. Every one should see his Smashington. It is the hilarious duty of the hour.

A success so speedily won and universally acknowledged as Miss BATEMAN'S hardly needs the breath of newspaper approval, and yet in view of the thousands who go to Niblo's Theatre every week, to witness the lady's impersonation of Leah, in the play of that name, it is difficult to avoid the topic. It was a hazardous thing to revive this work, but the venture although desperate was a good one. The excitement of last season has, strange to say, been renewed, and this too, despite important changes in the general caste. Miss BATEMAN herself is evidently the sufficient attraction. Her performance is strikingly picturesque in all its details, and is riper and better colored than when it was first accepted as a success. It is certainly entitled to the recognition it has obtained.

FALLON'S STEREOPTICAN IN BROOKLYN.—At the Atheneum, for the benefit of a Sunday School enterprise, FALLON'S superb Stereoptican is on exhibition. Mr. ROSE, the lecturer, or describer of the views, is thoroughly familiar with the subject, and renders an interesting exhibition doubly profitable and entertaining by his narration of fact and explanation of position.

BARNUM has on exhibition an enormous Stereopticon which reproduces scenes historic and famous with marvellous fidelity. In addition to views of noted statuary, Mr. BARNUM presents choice pictures of himself, Commodore Nutt, Tom Thumb and wife, and other modern notabilities.

FROM THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC

Visit of Senators Wade and Chandler to Falmouth.

SPECIAL DISPATCH FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Sunday, May 17.

Senators WADE and CHANDLER returned last evening from Falmouth. Confidence in their ability to observe accurately and judge correctly will be universally felt. They report the troops in most effective condition and in the best spirits, and impatient for another and an immediate chance at LEE'S army, asking only that the ground shall be such that they can get at the rebels and keep at them.

To nail the lie of the Richmond press, that LEE'S troops captured fifty cannon from us at Chancellorsville, it is proper to state that the official report of Capt. FLAGLER, chief ordnance officer, shows that in the whole series of engagements we lost but eight guns, and captured nine. It is also positively known that we made the largest captures of prisoners. The official list of killed, wounded and missing also corrects the exaggerations of our friends, and refutes the falsehoods of our enemies.

The loss of rebel General Officers was extraordinary. The Richmond papers have already published, among their killed and wounded, Lieut.-Gen. Jackson, dead; Brig.-Gen. Thomas, killed; Gen. A. P. Hill, wounded; Brig.-Gen. Paxton, killed; Brig.-Gen. McGowan, wounded; Brig.-Gen. Heth, wounded; Brig.-Gen. Nichols, wounded, leg amputated; Brig.-Gen. Hoke, wounded. Every Staff Officer of A. P. HILL was either killed, wounded or captured. Half of JACKSON'S Staff shared the same fate.

The enemy's loss of rank and file is, of course, proportional to this loss of officers. Two more such fights as that at Chancellorsville would wipe out LEE'S army.

Lieut.-Col. CROWDER, of New-Brunswick, and Lieut.-Col. Lord ABINGER, of the Scots Fusileer Guards, from Canada, dined with Gen. HOOKER on Saturday.

FROM ANOTHER CORRESPONDENT.

WASHINGTON, Sunday, May 17.

It is ascertained from gentlemen returning from the Rappahannock, that Gen. HOOKER seems highly gratified with his recent visit to the President.

The river front of the enemy has been reconnoitered, and the discovery made, that during the night of the 14th inst., the enemy threw up new and extensive earthworks along the ridge of hills in the rear, and to the left of Fredericksburgh.

Under the direction of Gen. PATRICK, all offal, carcasses and filth around the entire army is being removed, and other sanitary measures are in progress. Some of the camps, including Gen. HOOKER'S headquarters, will probably be removed from their present locations to more salubrious positions.

It is reported to-day that every available soldier now on detached service on and around Washington, Baltimore and on the railroads in Virginia and Maryland, will be forwarded to HOOKER'S command, and their places supplied by Pennsylvania militia, which, it is said, has been tendered by Gov. CURTIN.

THE CAVALRY RAID IN VIRGINIA.

WASHINGTON, May 17, 1863.

The following report was yesterday received at the Headquarters of the Army:

HEADQUARTERS TWELFTH ILLINOIS CAVALRY,
GLOUCESTER POINT, VA., May 16.

To Brig.-Gen. Rufus, King, Commanding at York town:

GENERAL: In compliance with your request, I have the honor to submit the following report of the operations of the Twelfth Illinois cavalry since leaving the main body of the cavalry corps on the South Anna, on the morning of Sunday last.

My orders were to penetrate to the Fredericksburgh Railroad, and, if possible, to the Virginia Central, and destroy communications. Should we cross the Virginia Central, I was to make for Williamsburgh, said to be in possession of our forces. We marched before daybreak, passing down the bank of the South Anna, through a region never before occupied by our forces. We burned one bridge and dispersed a party of mounted guerillas, who made a poor attempt to oppose us. We struck the first railway line at Ashland. Lieut. MITCHELL, with about a dozen men, was sent ahead to occupy the place. He dashed into the village and took it without loss. There were but few of the enemy there, and they escaped us. We captured their arms, however, and destroyed them. Words cannot describe the astonishment of the inhabitants at our appearance. I assured them no harm would be done their persons or property, and we soon became better acquainted. We cut the telegraph wire, and tore up half a dozen rails, and piling a quantity of boards in some trestle work south of the town, made an immense fire, which soon consumed the entire structure. While at this work, a train of cars approaching the town, was captured and brought in for inspection. It proved to be an ambulance train from Fredericksburgh of seven cars, filled with 250 sick and wounded officers and soldiers, with a guard. Among them was an Aid of Gov. LETCHER, and general officers of considerable rank. We received their version of the late fight, and paroled them and let them go, leaving the cars for the benefit of the poor fellows who were more seriously injured. The engine and tender of the train, together with another found in town, were rendered completely useless by a mechanic from the ranks. We found here a stable filled with rebel horses and mules. Some of them we took with us, but were obliged to leave the most of them. We destroyed twenty wagons, with harness, &c.

We left Ashland at 6 o'clock P. M. A few miles from the town word was brought in that a train of eighteen wagons was camped in the woods near by. I sent Capt. RODER, with Companies B and C, to destroy them, which he did. We struck the Central Railroad at Hanover Station, about 8 P. M. Although wearied and exhausted by our day's labor, I thought it best to complete the duty assigned us, and break all the enemy's communications before resting. Not an enemy opposed us. We captured and paroled about thirty officers and men at the station. They made no resistance. Capt. SHEARS was ordered to destroy the trestle work, which reached about ten rods to the south of the depot. The work was effectually done by the same process as at Ashland, and by its blaze we could clearly discern the Confederate guards passively standing at the other end. We also burned a culvert, and cut the telegraph wires, and burned the depot buildings, store-houses, stables, and a train of cars, all belonging to the Confederate Government, and filled with property.

It would be impossible to give a precise statement of the damage here inflicted upon the enemy. It must have been great. There were more than 100 wagons, 1,000 sacks of flour and corn, and a large quantity of clothing and horse equipments. The buildings and cars were full of property, collected for the use of the Southern army. All private property we respected, and I believe that none whatever was damaged. By the light of the burning buildings we left the station, and marched for the Court-house, which had been previously occupied by Capt. FISHER, with Companies A and G who had placed pickets there and taken a captain and four men prisoners. We passed through the Court-house and marched down to within seven miles of Richmond, where we bivouacked till 8 A. M. The next morning we marched for Williamsburgh. At Turstall Station (near the White House and the Richmond and Yorktown Railroad,) a train of cars filled with infantry, and a battery of three guns was run out to oppose us. I thought it best to make an effort to break through, before the men could be got out of the cars, or the battery in position. I therefore brought up my two foremost squadrons and ordered a charge, which was executed by them, Capt. REAMES, with Companies D and F, taking the lead, and followed by Capt. SHEARES with Companies H and J. This charge was made most gallantly. The infantry filled the embankment of the railway and poured upon us a severe fire, but my men dashed up to the embankments in splendid style, and, with carbines and pistols, responded to the fire with equal effect. It was, however, impossible to break through. There were formidable rifle-pits to the left of the read, which the enemy soon filled. We were forced to retire, with a loss of two killed and several wounded, among the latter, Lieut. MARSH, who was among the foremost in the charge, and who received so severe a wound in the right arm that we were obliged to leave him in one of the neighboring houses. Failing to penetrate the enemy's line at this point, I determined to cross the Pamunkey and Mattaponey Rivers, and made for Gloucester Point. In this movement I had nothing to guide me but a common map of the State of Virginia, and was in entire ignorance of the position of the enemy's force except that the line before me was closed. My information was of that poor sort derived from contrabands, selected Plunkett's Ferry, over the Pamunkey, and occupied it, after driving away a picket on the other side, with whom we exchanged shots. We crossed in a boat holding fifteen or eighteen men and horses, which was poled over the river. Our passage was not disputed. In the same manner we crossed the Mattapony at Wekerton, after driving away a picket, two of whom we captured.

Between these two ferries a portion of the command under Maj. BRONSON became detached and did not join us until the 7th inst. They captured fifteen rebels, and destroyed a quantity of saddles at King and Queen's Court-House.

From Wolkeston we marched to Gloucester Point, having traveled a distance of over 200 miles, much of it through Southern lands, never disturbed by the presence of an enemy. Not far from Saluda, we captured and destroyed a train of eighteen wagons loaded with corn and provisions.

Our total loss in the expedition has been two commissioned officers and thirty-three enlisted men. We brought with us one hundred mules and seventy-five horses captured from the enemy. We captured, in the course of our march, a much larger number, which we could not bring in. The amount of property destroyed is estimated at over one million of dollars.

Respectfully submitted,
H. DAVIS,
Lieut.-Col. Commanding.

NEW TESTIMONIALS

New-York, April 18, 1863.

A little daughter of mine has been affected with a troublesome discharge from both ears, the result of scarlet fever. Dr. Lighthill, under whose care I placed her, has removed the discharge completely, and improved her hearing.

W. H. RAYNOR, No. 6 Pine-st.

From Rev. John Nott, D. D., Professor in Union College, Schenectady.

Schenectady, Jan. 17, 1863.

Dr. Lighthill—

Sir: Having been cured by you of a discharge in an ear, which has been very offensive of late, and as far back as I can remember, always more or less so; and having been entirely restored to hearing since under your care, I feel that I cannot withhold this acknowledgment from any use it may be to others, especially as I have applied in vain to my family physician and other physicians of reputation. Yours, truly,

JOHN NOTT.

CATARRH CURED.

From Rev. P. R. Russell, Lynn, Mass.

I have been much troubled with catarrh of the worst type for some twenty years. It gradually grew worse, producing cough and hoarseness, destroying the sense of smell, and breaking down my general health to such a degree as to compel me to resign my pastorate, and suspend public speaking.

I made diligent use of the usual remedies, such as snuffs of different kinds, nitrate of silver, tar water, olive tar and inhalations, but without any very salutary effects. Last Summer I heard of Dr. Lighthill's successful mode of treating catarrh, visited him, and put myself under his treatment. I began immediately to improve, and this improvement has gone on to the present time. My catarrh has gradually melted away, my cough has disappeared, my voice has become natural, and I am once more able to preach the blessed Gospel. Let me advise all troubled with catarrhal difficulties to apply to Dr. Lighthill.

P. R. RUSSELL.

Lynn, Mass., Feb. 1, 1862.

New-York, June 29, 1862.

Dr. Lighthill:

Dear Sir: I am pleased to be able to testify to the efficacy of your treatment in the case of my wife, whose hearing in one ear you succeeded in restoring, after treatment of various kinds had been applied in vain. I may futhermore state that her hearing remains good up to the present time, though it is several years since she has been under your care.

E. CLAYBURGH, No. 141 Duane-st.

No. 740 Water-st., New-York, June 5, 1862.

Dr. Lighthill has succeeded in completely restoring my hearing, which was seriously impaired, although previous to applying to him I was treated by several physicians without the least benefit. Any further information I should be pleased to render on application to me at my residence, No. 173 Second-st., Brooklyn, E. D., or at my place of business, No. 740 Water-st.

WM. H. WATERBURY.

New-York, July 28, 1862.

I hereby certify that I have suffered during many years from trouble in hearing—one ear at last became entirely deaf, and the other so bad as to render conversation very difficult. I applied to Dr. Lighthill, of No. 34 St. Mark's-place, who, in a short time, and without pain, restored to me the use of my ears, so that I can now hear perfectly well.

J. BISCO, No. 158 East 23d-st.

Metropolitan Hotel, New-York, April 1, 1862.

Dear Sir: I take much pleasure in testifying to the professional skill exhibited by you in your treatment of a case of severe inflammation of the throat and ear with which I have lately been afflicted. Upon coming under your charge I was immediately relieved and speedily cured of a most aggravated complaint, which several physicians had previously sought in vain to mitigate.

As I am somewhat of a stranger in the City, I would state that you are at liberty to substantiate my statements, if necessary, by reference to my relatives, Mr. A. V. Stout, President of the Shoe and Leather Bank of New-York, and to Mr. Everett Clapp, of the Western Transportation Company, No. 1 Coenties-slip.

With much esteem, I am, sir,
Your obedient servant,
FRED. M. HANKS.

To Dr. Lighthill, No. 34 St. Marks-place, New-York.

No. 12 Cortlandt-st., New-York, Jan. 2, 1863.

Dr. E. B. Lighthill—Dear Sir: It is with the kindest feelings toward you, and hoping to do service to some one who is afflicted, that I forward the inclosed document to you.

To whom it may concern: I am personally acquainted with the success which attended Dr. Lighthill's treatment in a case of discharge from the ear and chronic inflammation of the throat, and would be pleased to give further information on application.

V. D. W. WEEKES.

No. 73 Grand-st., Newburgh, N. Y., Dec. 23, 1862.

I placed my wife under the care of Dr. Lighthill for deafness in one ear of nearly three years' standing, accompanied by constant noises. I am happy to state that her hearing is now entirely restored, and the noises removed. Those residing in New-York who are desirous of further information may apply to my brother-in-law, Capt. William Edwards, at No. 95 East 34th-st., who is acquainted with the circumstances of the case.

FRANCIS GOULDY.

I have been suffering for some time with noise in my head, and deafness. Having applied to Dr. Lighthill, I have great pleasure in saying that he has completely relieved me, so that now I can hear as well as ever, and am not troubled with the noise in my head.

I may also mention that a young man named Henry Laws, staying with me, was also afflicted in a similar manner, and Dr. Lighthill was equally successful in his case.

JOHN MURDOCK, No. 197 Fulton-st.

Brooklyn, Jan. 2, 1863.

No. 42 Fifth-st., New-York, June 25, 1862.

Dr. Lighthill—Dear Sir: I take pleasure in testifying to the remarkable skill and judgment you displayed in the case of my daughter, who had been partially deaf, accompanied by discharge from the ears, since early infancy, and is now, thanks to your treatment, able to hear as well as any one, while her ears are free from the discharge. Although it is nearly two years since she has been under your care, her hearing remains as good, and her ears as sound, as the day she left you.

O. S. HOLLY.

For promoting the Growth, and preserving the Beauty of

THE HUMAN HAIR.

The Inventors of Cocoaine—knowing that when the loss of hair occurs, it is generally from that part of the head where the greatest heat is necessarily generated, and that animal fats, as Bear's Grease, Lard, &c., &c., by their nature induce heat rather than alleviate it—turned their attention and pharmaceutical science towards Vegetable Oils, as the basis of a medicament to promote the growth, and preserve the beauty of the hair. The Oleum Cocos, or

COCOA-NUT OIL,

Presented itself strongly, as possessing many properties peculiarly adapted for the purpose; but its odor was objectionable, and its density (except when exposed to heat) seemed for a long time to defy all efforts to render it available, in the cooler climates, for popular use. BY A SCIENTIFIC SELECTION OF OTHER INGREDIENTS, THOSE WHICH WILL CHEMICALLY COMBINE WITH THE OIL HAVE BEEN DISCOVERED, and they together have produced a topical compound, which is unqualifiedly pronounced to be the best which has yet appeared.

In the form here presented this Oil is PERMANENTLY DEODORIZED, and held in a combination which peculiarly adapts it for the toilet. It is UNRIVALED IN DELICACY AND AGREEABLENESS, COOLING IN ITS NATURE, AND POSSESSES SUCH A PENETRATING AFFINITY FOR THE SECRETIONS OF THE SKIN, THAT IT IS RAPIDLY ABSORBED.

This Oil allays irritation, removes all tendency to dandruff, and invigorates the action of the capillaries in the highest degree. ITS EFFECT UPON THE GLOSSINESS AND RICHNESS OF THE APPEARANCE OF THE HAIR IS SUCH AS CANNOT BE SURPASSED, and it is offered to the public in the firm belief that it will supersede all other preparations. Its unprecedented popularity in all parts of the country is the best evidence of its merit.

BURNETT'S COCOAINE.
BURNETT'S COCOAINE.
BURNETT'S COCOAINE.

The superiority of this preparation consists in its choice material, and delightful perfume, rendering it a perfect hair preparation.

We are confident that no one who may make a trial of its efficacy will be willing to return to the use of any other preparation.

The proprietors would also call attention to the fact that it is the cheapest Hair Dressing yet offered to the public, QUANTITY and QUALITY considered.

DEAFNESS

NOISES IN THE HEAD,

Diseases of the Eye, Ear & Throat,

CATARRH CURED
BY
DR. VON EISENBERG.

Author of "Surgical and Practical Observations on the Diseases of the Ear, with his new Mode of Treatment."

NEW TESTIMONY.

"New-York, May 6.

I was entirely deaf in my left ear, accompanied by a discharge. I placed myself under Dr. Von Eisenberg's care, who, by his great skill, restored me to perfect hearing, in the short space of a few minutes, without giving me the slightest pain, and the discharge has ceased entirely. The Eustachian Tube, which was obliterated, is quite open, and I feel that the air-passage performs its functions. I am amply satisfied, and recommend every one suffering from impaired hearing to place themselves under the treatment of this eminent and successful physician.

THOMAS GRANAN, No. 539 6th-av."

"New-York, May 7, 1863.

I have great pleasure to testify to the skill of Dr. Von Eisenberg. I went into his office almost completely deaf, and came out with my perfect hearing. It is nearly twelve months since, and the hearing is perfect. The operation, which lasted two or three minutes in each of my ears, gave me no pain whatsoever. I, with confidence, recommend all sufferers to place themselves under Dr. Von Eisenberg's unsurpassing skill.

SAMUEL C. HUNT,
No. 6 Meserole-av., Greenpoint, L. I."

West Houston-st., New-York, Feb. 9, 1863.

I have been completely deaf in one ear, and partially so in the other, for above seventeen years, with a disagreeable discharge from both ears, combined with continual rumbling noise in the head, for which I have been treated by a most eminent practitioner in the City without the slightest relief.

I consulted Dr. Von Eisenberg, but I must candidly say that I had no faith in his success when I did so. It is, therefore, due to Dr. Von Eisenberg to acknowledge that I am entirely cured; also, that he displayed that skill and knowledge which have procured for him such an unrivaled reputation. As I have had an opportunity of comparing his mode of treatment with that of others, I can truly state that it is not only superior, but the principles which direct his mode of restoring the hearing are, in my opinion, certain.

JOHN TAYLOR.

New-York, July 19, 1862.

This certifies that my mother has been for some time afflicted with partial deafness, suffering from pain, and rumbling noises in the head, together with other indications of a total loss of hearing. Dr. Von Eisenberg removed from her ears a great quantity of matter, together with coagulated blood, relieving her instantaneously, and all without pain. It is with grateful thanks that I give this testimony to his skill.

CARROLL J. POST, No. 28 South-st.

No. 188 Mercer-st., New-York.

J. E. Von Eisenberg, M. D.—Dear Doctor: I have been afflicted with total deafness, and was induced to pay you a visit. No one can imagine my delight when, after one operation, my hearing was suddenly, and without pain, restored to me, for which I feel very grateful. After being totally deaf—almost shut out from the pleasure of using so necessary a sense—to have it returned, and to hear so distinctly, reflects great credit on you for the immense amount of skill you possess. I beg to thank you for what I can so truly appreciate. I am, Sir, your obedient servant.

EDWARD TEMPLE HARRISON.

CHRONIC CATARRH CURED.
READ

New-York, March 20, 1863.

"This is to certify, that I have suffered from very severe CHRONIC CATARRH, with a dull heaviness in the head. I felt my nose completely stopped up accompanied by continual soreness of the throat, the chills stealing over me with occasional hot flushes, a great tightness of the chest and pain, so much so, that every one thought it was consumption. Having heard of the great cures performed by Dr. Von Eisenberg, I consulted him with but little hope of a cure. I am now happy to be enabled to add my testimonial to the great number already in the Doctor's possession, as to his scientific and successful mode of treatment, as he has shown in my case that skill and knowledge which have procured for him so great a reputation. I am so entirely restored to perfect health that I do most sincerely recommend all sufferers from CHRONIC CATARRH and SORE THROAT to apply at once to Dr. Von Eisenberg with a certainty of being cured."

II.

THE GENTLEMAN.

BY GEORGE H. CALVERT.
1 vol. 16mo. Cloth . . . Price 75 cts.

This work embodies a comprehensive and philosophical definition and illustration of The Gentleman. Such a work, interesting and important at any time, is doubly welcome at the present hour, when nothing can be more desirable than a clear and emphatic exposition of the character of the Gentleman, as an incarnation of the justice, love, and honor, upon which rest the hopes and welfare of the nation. In this volume the author gives a full, forcible, frank, and fervent discussion of the Gentleman as he figures in history, in society, in domestic life, and in literature; and the whole treatise, while made genially attractive by playfulness and anecdote, is pervaded by an earnestness born of strong conviction and deep sympathies.

III.

"Ferrier and Austen have given portraits of real society far superior to anything vain man has produced of the like nature. I read again, and for the third time, Miss Austen's very finely written novel of 'Pride and Prejudice.' "Shakespeare has neither equal nor second; but among writers who, in the point we have noticed, have approached nearest the manner of the great master, we have no hesitation in placing Jane Austen."—Macaulay.

Messrs T. & F. also publish this day, new editions of LECTURES TO YOUNG MEN. By Henry Ward Beecher. 1 vol. 16mo. $1.

MAGNIFICENT COLLECTION OF MODERN PICTURES.

HENRY H. LEEDS & CO. will sell at auction, on THURSDAY and FRIDAY EVENINGS, May 21 and 22, at 7½ o'clock each evening, at the Dusseldorf Gallery, No. 548 Broadway, over Dr. Chapin's Church—

MAGNIFICENT COLLECTION OF MODERN PICTURES,

Being the richest and most costly assemblage of works of art we have probably ever had the pleasure of offering, consisting of ORIGINAL specimens by artists of distinction in various countries, selected by a gentleman favorably known in the art world for the last thirty years, and of which a large portion were purchased when in Europe from the exhibitions of the seasons of 1848, 1850, 1856, 1857 and 1860, and others painted to order for the collection.

The Gallery contains the productions of several artists of whom examples, owing to their rarity and high cost, have never before been offered here, among which will be found the chef d'oeuvre of Florent Willems, "L'amour et la Fidelite," one of the most beautiful specimens of pre-Raffaelite art.

A "Breton Interior," the prize picture of Theodore de Heuvel. The "Hamlet," by Hamman, the finest known picture of Van de Sander Bakhuyzen, (recently deceased at the Hague,) called the "Forest Side," and to which Verboeckhoven added the figures. A cabinet specimen by Adolf Dilleus, &c.

The Dusseldorf School is represented by a rare work by the inimitable fruit painter, Preyer; also, by paintings of Leutze, Vautier, Camphausen, Boettcher, Forster, Meyerheim, Hagelstein, Zimmerman, &c., &c.

The French School by examples of Compte, Calix, F. Willems, Fauvel, Tesson, Veron, Pecrus, Lanfout de Metz, Phillipeau, Cerier, &c.

The Dutch School by numerous specimens by Schelfhout, Verschuur, Louis Meyer, Van Grootveldt, Eversen, Koek Koek, Terlack, Van Hove, Van Moer, Spokler, Bakhuyzen, Reyntjens, Walraven, Kruseman, Leickert, Riegens, Vaarberg, Akkersdyke, Bilders of Utrecht, Vervcer Scheeres, Ten Katen, Herrebart, Rosenboom, &c.

Among the Belgian artists represented are Verboeckhoven, (two specimens of the first class,) Hamman, Raffaien, Dillens, Mme. Ronner, Mme. Senezcourt, De Noter, Robbe de Beul, Serrure, De Heuvel, Von Seben, Verwee, Smets, Bertling, Correns, Wauters, De Jonghe, Maswyn, Vidal, Janssens, &c.

The English portion of the collection is unusually rich in specimens of great beauty (many of them exhibition pictures) by Sidney R. Percy, H. J. Boddington, Baxter, Cobbett, Passmore, George Cole, Armfield, Newell, Burt, E. C. Williams, Walter Williams, Pelham, Shayer, Pinton, Barland, Beattie, Charles Dukes, E. C. Barnes, &c., &c.

Also, several rare examples by American artists, including "Washington Crossing the Delaware," by E. Leutze, being the second and smaller picture of the subject, and the one from which the fine engraving was taken in 1856; Cropsey, Gignoux, Sully, Hays, Tait, Eastman, Johnson, G. C. Lambdin, Shattuck, Bingham and Sontag.

Together with several choice pieces of marble statuary.

They are now on exhibition as above, free, with catalogue, and we would recommend lovers of the fine arts to pay an early visit to the collection, the opportunity for examining it at their leisure being then probably more favorable than toward the close of the exhibition, when the rooms are more crowded.

SCRANTON COAL AT AUCTION.

OFFICE OF THE DELAWARE, LACKAWANNA AND WESTERN RAILROAD CO., No. 35 WILLIAM-ST.,
NEW-YORK, May 11, 1863.

In continuation of the system of monthly auction sales, this Company will offer, at public auction, on WEDNESDAY, 20th day of May, 1863, at 12 o'clock noon, at the room now used as the Merchants' Exchange, Nos. 26 and 28 Exchange place, corner of William-st., by SIMEON DRAPER, Auctioneer, embracing all the usual sizes, and deliverable at their depot, Elizabethport, N. J., after the 1st of June next. They will repeat such auction sales on or about the 20th of each month, during the year 1863.

THIRTY THOUSAND TONS OF FRESH MINED SCRANTON COAL,

The sale will be positive. Each lot put up will be sold to the highest bidder; no bids, in any form whatever being made for account of, or on behalf of the Company.

Fifty cents per ton, in bankable funds, to be paid at the time and place of sale, and the balance in like funds, on receiving the order for the coal, which must be called for within 10 days thereafter, and the coal taken away within 30 days from the day of sale, unless navigation is obstructed. Buyers who wish, however, can have an additional 30 days for taking the delivery of their purchases, by making a further deposit of 50 cents per ton, within 10 days above specified. Interest, at 7 per cent. per annum, will in such case be charged on the balance, from the time stipulated for payment until paid; and 25 cents per ton to cover the expense of stocking the coal—both to be paid on delivery of order.

The other conditions of sale will be substantially those hitherto accepted by all purchasers, by private contract, of coal deliverable at Elizabethport, so far as applicable. The coal will be delivered direct from the cars on their arrival from the mines, when practicable—otherwise from the stock. These conditions will be modified to meet the wants of ocean steamers, whose arrival cannot be definitely fixed.

With a reliable avenue from the Lackawanna and Wyoming Valleys to tide-water, open every day in the year (Sundays excepted,) requiring but 12 hours for the transit of the trains, the advantages of such sales, and the superior condition in which the coal will be delivered, are so apparent, they cannot doubt this mode of selling will commend itself to the favorable consideration of both the trade and consumers, whose cooperation is respectfully invited. C. R. ROBERT, President.

OWNERS OF STEAM VESSELS ARE INvited to send to the Quartermaster-General's Office tenders for their charter or sale.

Senders should contain descriptions of the vessels, their dimensions, enrolled or registered tonnage, actual carrying capacity, material, whether coppered, whether side wheel or propellers, whether iron or copper fastened, size and power of engines and boilers; and should state the price at which they are offered, for long or short charter, with the estimated value of the vessel in case of loss, or in case the Government should prefer to purchase instead of chartering.

Owners of steam vessels already in the service of the Quartermaster's Department are requested to make known to the Department any reduction in their present rates which they may be willing to grant, and also the price at which they will be willing to sell them.

All such tenders should be addressed to the Quartermaster-General of the United States at Washington, and should be indorsed,

"Proposals for charter or sale of steamers."

When received they will be considered, and the Department will endeavor to reduce the heavy expense attending army transportation, upon the ocean and tide-waters, by substituting, wherever it can do so, cheaper vessels of equal capacity for those now employed.

PRIVATE DISEASES CURED IN THE shortest possible time, by Dr. WARD & CO., No. 50 Lispenard-st., near Broadway, without the use of Mercury, loss of time or change of diet. Dr. WARD, from the hospitals of London, Paris and Edinburgh, is the discoverer of the only certain and reliable remedies for diseases of a private character. In 28 years' practice he has cured more cases of Secret Diseases and Wrong Treatment than all others combined. I can and will cure you in less time and expense than any one can or will, and those who have been robbed of their money and health, call; it will take but little money and time to restore you. If you have been unfortunate, call at once. By his special experience in this much neglected branch of medical science, he is enabled to guarantee a cure in the most complicated cases. Recent cases of Gonorrhœa or Syphilis cured in a few days, without change of diet or hindrance from business. Secondary Syphilis—the last vestige eradicated without the use of Mercury. Involuntary emissions stopped in a short time. Sufferers from Impotency, or loss of sexual power, restored to full vigor in a few weeks. Permanently and speedily cured by a new treatment. Persons at a distance failing to receive prompt treatment elsewhere, may get a permanent cure effected by writing a full diagnosis of their case, addressed to Dr. WARD, No. 50 Lispenard-st., the only place. Call, send or write.

SURE CURE—BY DR. POWERS, SUCCESSfully consulted with Dr. WARD, No. 50 Lispenard-st. Conducted on the plan of the Hospital des Veneriens, Paris, where those afflicted with any form of private disease can receive prompt treatment, without risk or exposure, viz.: Syphilis, gonorrhœa, gleet, strictures, ulcers, tumors, cancers, secondary and constitutional syphilis, diseases of the kidneys, &c., &c. Thirty years of extensive practice, exclusively devoted to the treatment of these complaints enable us to effect cures in cases where others of less experience have failed. Dr. Powers' Essence of Life restores the vigor of youth in four weeks. This marvelous agent restores manhood to the most shattered constitution—physical disqualifications, impediments to marriage, thereby speedily cured. The men to consult, Drs. Ward and Powers, the champions and kings of venereal diseases, possessing the most certain, speedy and only effectual remedies in the world, guarantee a perfect cure, or no charge, in from one to three days. Established in 1840. N. B.—Those who have used their preventives are never without. Send for a circular. To Ladies.—Dr. Powers' Periodical Drops are a safe and certain remedy for monthly irregularities. The above remedies sent by mail. The afflicted should read their circular. Postage free, on receipt of a stamp. Cures warranted.

DRS. TRALL & JACKSON'S "PATHOLOGY OF THE REPRODUCTIVE ORGANS."—"This is really a scientific work of great practical value. All other works on the subjects discussed in this volume, that have fallen under our observation, are addressed mainly to a prurient taste, and are positively pernicious."—Chicago Tribune. "This volume is full of scientific information of incalculable benefit in the cure of disease."—New-Bedford Mercury. "It is unquestionably the most complete, the most sensible and the most valuable work of its kind yet published."—The New Yorker. "It offers judicious advice to suffering humanity, which will save thousands from complicating their afflictions by resorting to quack doctors and empirical treatment."—Boston Journal. "It is the only work in existence containing directions which will positively CURE that distressing disease termed spermatorrhœa, and other sexual diseases which cause so much misery to the human family."—Boston Express.

DR. LEWIS' PERUVIAN WAFERS ARE well known throughout Europe to be the most certain and effectual cure ever discovered for every stage and and symptom of secret disease, including secondary symptoms, strictures, seminal weakness and all diseases of the urinary passages, without loss of time, confinement, or hindrance from business. They have effected most surprising cures, not only in recent and most severe cases, but when salivation and all other means have failed; and when an early application is made to Dr. Lewis for the cure of a certain disorder, frequently contracted in a moment of inebrity, the eradication is generally completed in a few days; and in more advanced and inveterate stages of secret infection, characterized by a variety of painful and distressing symptoms, a perseverance in their use, (without restraint in diet or exercise,) will insure to the patient a permanent and radical cure. To be had only of the Proprietor, Dr. LEWIS, No. 7 Beach-st., between Varick and West Broadway, New-York.

THE VIGOR OF YOUTH IS RESTORED in three days by Dr. POWERS' ESSENCE OF LIFE. This wonderful agent restores manhood to the most shattered constitution, radically curing Seminal Weakness, Sexual Debility, and impediments to marriage generally; Nervousness, Mental and Physical Incapacity, resulting from self-abuse, &c. The time required to cure the most inveterate case is one week. Failure is impossible. This life-restoring remedy should be taken by all about to marry, as its effects are permanent. Strictures of the urethra, impotency, seminal weaknesses, &c., treated on the most scientific principles. N. B.—As a proof of Dr. C.'s qualifications, he would call special attention to his Diplomas, which can be seen in his office.

DR. COOPER, NO. 14 DUANE-ST., MAY BE confidently consulted on all diseases of a private nature. A practice of 30 years, devoted to the treatment and cure of Syphilitic, Mercurial and diseases of a delicate nature, enables Dr. C. to make speedy and permanent cures, no matter of how long standing the case may be. Strictures of the urethra and seminal weakness, brought on by a secret habit, effectually cured. The victims of misplaced confidence, who have been misled by quack advertisements, can call on Dr. C. with the certainty of being radically cured. N. B.—Dr. C. is a qualified physician and surgeon, and a member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of New-York. Office hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

PRIVATE CONSULTATION.—DR. HUNTER has, for thirty years, confined his attention to diseases of a certain class, in which he has treated no less than fifty thousand cases, without an instance of failure. His great remedy, HUNTER'S RED DROP, cures certain diseases, when regular treatment and all other remedies fail; cures without dieting or restriction in the habits of the patient; cures without the disgusting and sickening effects of all other remedies; cures in new cases in less than six hours; cures without the dreadful consequent effects of mercury, but possesses the peculiarly valuable property of annihilating the rank and poisonous taint that the blood is sure to absorb, unless his remedy is used. That is what he claims for it, and what no other will accomplish. Its value in this respect has become so well known, that scientific men in every department of medical knowledge begin to appreciate it, for hardly a week passes that he is not consulted by druggists, chemists and physicians, in regard to some pitiful patient who has exhausted the whole field of the faculty, and still the disease will appear. Its popularity is so great, that there is not a quack doctor in the City that has not attacked it; and when they find their lies are not so easily swallowed, they then pretend that they can make it. It is $1 a vial, and cannot be obtained genuine anywhere but at the old office, No. 3 Division-st. Book for 15 three-cent stamps, 300 pages, 100 colored illustrations. The best work out.

FROM NEW-ORLEANS.

Macon as possible, and two volunteer scouts, (private Post, of the Second Iowa, and private Parkle, of the Sixth Illinois,) who had offered to do the work, backed out at last from the perilous undertaking. Believing it to be very important that a feint should be made toward Macon, and no one appearing willing to do it, Col. Prince—soon after starting on this morning of April 22—offered the work to Capt. Forbes, of Company B, Seventh Illinois.

Capt. Forbes, whose command numbered only 35 men and officers, gladly accepted it, though knowing that, in order to rejoin his regiment, he would have to repulse any force which might be following, and march at least 50 miles further than the rest of the command; besides running great risk of being captured, as it was not known what force might be at Macon, nor what force might be following. He was instructed that if a force should be at Macon, he was to try and cross the Okanoxubee River, and move toward Decatur, in Newton County, by the shortest route. The gallant Captain proceeded on his perilous journey, and his Colonel says he feared he would never see him again; although he knew that he would accomplish all that could be done by human bravery and prudence.

Before marching this day (the 22d) Capt. Graham, with one battalion, was detailed to burn a Confederate shoe manufactory near Starkville. He succeeded in destroying several thousand pairs of boots and shoes, also hats and a large quantity of leather; besides capturing a Quartermaster from Port Hudson, who was getting supplies for his regiment. The two regiments—the Sixth Illinois in advance—passed through the little village of Louisville at 7½ P. M., and camped ten miles below the latter place at 1 o'clock A. M. of the 23d. The distance marched this day was fifty-seven miles, over the most terrible roads that can be imagined.

The march of the 22d was terrible, because the swamps of the Okanoxubee River were overflowed. After moving four miles south of Louisville, they marched a distance of eight miles through a swamp. On each side of the road were enormous trees, and the water was, everywhere, from three to four feet deep; with every few hundred yards, a mire hole in which frequently, for a few moments, man and horse were lost to view. The Seventh Illinois being in the rear, found these holes almost impassable, from the action of the large body of cavalry which had preceded them, and they were compelled to leave drowned some twenty noble animals, whose strength was not equal to such an emergency. The men so dismounted removed their saddles, placed them on some other led beasts, and pushed onwards cheerfully.

23d.—They broke camp at 7 o'clock A. M., crossed the Pearl River at 4½ P. M., and took refreshments at Squire Payne's.

A glance at the map will show the importance of Pearl River. Knowing it to be quite high from heavy rains, and aware also that as rebel scouts had preceded them, it was of the utmost consequence to secure Pearl River Bridge, Col. Prince, who was in advance with the Seventh Illinois, pushed forward with energy, and, by very fast riding, succeeded in getting to the bridge and driving away a picket, before they had time to tear up more than a few planks, which were replaced in a few minutes. The gallant Colonel devoutly speaks of this as one of the many instances in which a divine Providence seemed to be shielding them, during their whole perilous journey; for the destruction of this bridge would have been, in all probability, fatal to the whole expedition.

At 10 o'clock P. M. Col. Blackburn, of the Seventh Illinois, was sent forward with 200 men to Decatur, which place he passed through it 4 A. M., (of the 24th,) and captured two trains of cars and two locomotives at Newton Station, at 7 o'clock. The rest of the command arrived at 9 o'clock. The bridges and trestles were found burned six miles each side of the station, 75 prisoners captured and paroled, two warehouses full of commissary stores utterly destroyed by fire, and also four carloads of ammunition, mostly for heavy artillery. The bridges, &c., on the east side of the station were destroyed by the Second battalion of the Sixth Illinois, under Major M. H. Starr. The whole command left Newton at 11 A. M. of the 24th, and marched through Garlandville to the plantation of Mr. Bender, about twelve miles from Newton, where they encamped. The distance traversed on the 23d and 24th was eighty miles, and all this without scarcely halting.

25th.—They left camp at Bender's at 8 A. M., and encamped for the night on Dr. Dore's plantation, eight miles east of Raleigh. It was at this place they were unhappily compelled to leave two or three soldiers, who were unable to travel further. The distance marched this day was about 20 miles.

26th.—They left camp at sunrise, passed through Raleigh at 8 o'clock A. M., crossed Strong River, near Westville, and fed at Mrs. Smith's plantation, near Strong River Bridge. The distance marched was 41 miles.

27th.—Col. Prince left Mrs. Smith's with 200 men at 1 A. M., and arrived at the Georgetown Ferry at daylight. The rest of the command came up and crossed during the day. Col. Prince immediately proceeded with 200 men to Hazlehurst, cut the telegraph wires, destroyed a number of cars, four of them loaded with ammunition.

Although Col. Prince had marched his regiment 41 miles—during a large portion of the time through drenching rain—he firmly believed that as the citizens were arming themselves and the news about them was flying in all directions, it was a matter of life and death that Pearl River should be crossed, and the New-Orleans and Jackson Railroad reached without any delay whatever. He therefore obtained permission from Col. Grierson to move directly forward, with 200 picked men of his regiment, to secure the ferry across Pearl River before the enemy should be able to destroy it. The distance to the river was 13 miles, and from there to Hazlehurst's Station was 12 miles. The remainder of the two regiments were to come forward as soon as they were sufficiently rested.

Col. Prince started with the 200 at 1 A. M., and reached the bank of the river before daylight, when, contrary to his information, the flatboat was upon the opposite side of the river. Not daring to call out, he spoke to a volunteer, who, with a powerful horse, undertook to swim the river; but the rapidity of the swollen stream carried him below the landing, where there was a quicksand, and he barely returned to shore with his life.

A few moments later a man came down from the house toward the river, and, in true North Carolina accent, asked, in a careless way, if we wanted to cross: to which he got a reply—in a very capital imitation of his twang—that a few of them did want to go across, and that it seemed harder to wake up his nigger ferryman than to catch the d—d conscripts. The proprietor took the bait, apologised for the detention and woke up his ferryman, who immediately brought over the boat, which thenceforward became the property of Uncle Sam—the proprietor all the while believing he was lavishing his attentions on the First regiment of Alabama cavalry, fresh from Mobile! The breakfast given to the Alabama Colonel that morning was highly relished and appreciated, but too much time was not spent over it, and the importance of speed was clearly proved, only half an hour afterwards, when they caught a courier flying to the ferry with the news that the Yankees were coming, and that all the ferries were to be immediately destroyed.

At Hazlehurst Station, Col. Prince succeeded in capturing a large number of cars, four or five being loaded with shell and ammunition, and others with army stores. The whole of this property was utterly destroyed.

And here comes one of the most amusing episodes of the whole affair. Capt. Forbes, who, it will be remembered, had been sent to Macon, from near Starkville, rejoined the command just as they had all crossed Pearl River. Having been unable to take Macon, he followed their trail to Newton, where he was informed that they had gone to Enterprise, on the Mobile and Ohio Railroad. He followed on to that place, and marched with his little squad into town, where he found about 3,000 rebel troops just getting off the cars. He promptly raised a flag of truce, and boldly rode forward, demanding the surrender of the place, in the name of Col. Grierson.

The commanding rebel officer—Col. Goodwin—asked one hour to consider the proposition, and wished to know where Capt. Forbes would be at that time. The Captain answered that he would go back with the reply to the reserve—which he did pretty rapidly, after having shrewdly ascertained the strength of the enemy. It is not known whether Enterprise ever surrendered or not, or whether the rebel Colonel is still trying to find the "reserve" to make his penitent bow,—but one thing certain is that Capt. Forbes, with his little squad of 35 men, did not intend to take those 3,000 rebels prisoners—that time at least—and was laughing in his sleeve many miles off while those Enterprise-ing people were trembling in their boots—id est if, at the present fabulous price of leather, they had any boots to tremble in.

The Mobile Register, of the 28th, in the depth of its consternation and chagrin, treats this ridiculous sell with the most absurd and amusing gravity. "The only thing satisfactorily explained," says the oracular Register, "is that they ran away from Enterprise as soon as they heard that 'Old Blizzard' was about." The Register little thought that it was only thirty-five brave fellows whom its terrified imagination had converted into "1,500 Yankees."

The Sixth and Seventh Illinois, under command of Col. Grierson, left Hazlehurst at 7 P. M., (the Sixth Illinois in advance,) passed through Gallatin and encamped near that place. A 32-pounder rifled Parrot gun, with 1,400 pounds of powder, was here captured, en route to Grand Gulf. The distance traveled this day was 37 miles.

28th.—They left camp at 7 o'clock. At Hardgrov's, Companies A, H, F and M were detailed, under command of Capt. Trafton, to proceed to Bahala and destroy the railroad and transportation. The Sixth Illinois had a skirmish with some rebel cavalry, near Union Church, in which two of the enemy were wounded, and some prisoners taken. They camped at Union Church. Distance marched that day thirty miles.

They left camp at sunrise. Capt. Trafton's battalion had come in at 4 A. M., having travelled some 30 miles more than the rest of the command, and having had several skirmishes, in which, without any loss, they captured about 30 prisoners. Again directing their course toward the New-Orleans and Jackson Railroad, at Brookhaven, the Seventh Illinois, in advance, charged into the place, burned depôt, cars, bridges, &c., and captured and paroled 201 prisoners. They encamped six miles southwest of the town. The people were much terrified by the idea that the whole town would be burned, but when they found all private property perfectly undisturbed, they seemed to entertain a very different opinion of the Yankees to what they did only a few hours previously. This diffusion of light and truth is, in reality, the vital point in which our advancing armies are striking down this rebellion. They marched 25 miles this day.

30th.—They left camp at sunrise, the Sixth Illinois in advance. They burned the depot, bridges and cars in the railroad at Bogue Chito; left that place at 10 A. M., burning all bridges and trestles between there and Summit, where they arrived at 5 P. M., and again burnt several cars and a large amount of Government property in the last locality. They encamped southwest of Summit, after marching over a distance of 28 miles.

May 1st.—They left camp at daylight, and proceeding in a southwesterly direction through the woods—without regard to roads—came into the Clinton and Osyka road, near a bridge four miles northeast of Wall's Post-office. About 80 of the enemy were lying in ambush near the bridge. Lieut.-Col. Blackburn, unfortunately with more bravery than discretion, proceeded across the bridge at the head of the scouts and of Company G, Seventh Illinois. He was seriously wounded in the thigh, and slightly in the head. Col. Prince immediately caused his men to dismount, to skirmish the enemy out of the bushes, and, with the assistance of Capt. Smith's battery, soon put them to flight.

This affair at the bridge detained the column but a few minutes. They marched all night; and crossed the Amite River about 10 o'clock P. M., without opposition—the picket being asleep. They had marched forty miles this day.

May 2d.—They marched again early in the morning, and the Sixth Illinois, being in advance, surprised and burned a rebel camp at Sandy Creek Bridge. At this point the Seventh Illinois was ordered in advance, and, at about 9 o'clock A. M., as a crowning glory to this most extraordinary series of adventures, captured 42 of Stewart's Mississippi Cavalry on Comite River, including their Colonel.

This noble band of toil-worn heroes arrived at Baton Rouge about noon of May 2, where their triumphal entry created a furore of joyful excitement that will not cease till it has thrilled every loyal heart upon this continent—aye, every heart that loves liberty and human bravery, through the civilized world.

Some idea of the pluck and endurance of these men can be gleaned from the fact that during the last thirty hours—in which they had ridden eighty miles, fought two or three skirmishes, destroyed bridges, camps, equipages, &c.; swam a river and captured forty-two prisoners and quantities of horses,—they had scarcely halted at all, and went through these terrific exertions, without food for man or beast! During the last night it was observed that nearly the entire column—worn out almost beyond human endurance—were fast asleep upon horseback; except when the sharp report of a carbine told of the nearness of the enemy. And all this was rendered without one word of murmur or complaint from any lip, either of officers or privates.

The names of the officers of this heroic band, whose deeds should be held up for the present and future generations to learn and emulate, are as follows:

AMERICAN AFFAIRS IN ENGLAND.

SPEECH BY MR. ADAMS TO THE TRADES UNIONISTS.

On the 2d inst. a deputation of Trades Unionists waited upon Mr. Adams, the American Minister, to present the address recently adopted at a public meeting of that body, sympathizing with the North, and applauding President Lincoln for his emancipation policy. Mr. Bright introduced the deputation, and made a few pertinent remarks. Speeches were also made by several members of the deputation.

Mr. Adams having expressed the pleasure he felt at seeing so numerous a deputation of working men before him said:

Gentlemen: I accept with pleasure the duty you have imposed upon me in receiving your address to Mr. Lincoln. Representing as I do, my country in England, you must be aware that I stand outside all local questions: therefore it is not my province to express dissatisfaction or satisfaction with those persons in England who express their opinions upon America. If there are any in this country who put a harsh construction on the conduct of the American Government it is not my place to find fault or my right to criticise. It is my duty, however, to accept from the representatives of any body of Englishmen the favorable sentiments towards the Government I represent and to reciprocate the frank, manly and independent spirit in which they have been tendered. I understand, gentlemen, you attend here as representing large bodies of workingmen, who advocate and uphold the rights of labor, and it is therefore but natural you should look with dislike upon any parties in whatever countries they may exist who infringe on those rights. You perceive that in the struggle now going on an attempt is made to establish a government on the destruction of the rights of labor—a government of physical power to take away the rights of labor. It is a question above all local rights; it is a general principle, and, therefore, though taking place in a foreign country, you have a right to express your opinion thereon. I accept the duty you impose on me with great pleasure, the more so as you have taken advantage of the occasion to speak on the question of war. I agree with your views. With two nations of the same race, of the same high spirit, both feeling proud of their superiority on the ocean under present circumstances it would be indeed surprising if something should not spring up on that ocean which might occasion collision. I concur with you, gentlemen, as to the great forbearance which ought to be exhibited by both countries in construing the actions of each other. I trust that in spite of all that has occurred, there is in the Government of each country a sufficient sense of responsibility, which will induce them to maintain friendly relations with each other.

There must naturally be a feeling of pride, of fear lest one nation should appear to refrain from properly resenting what it might deem to be an offence, and in this lies the great danger. I feel confident, however, that if the two peoples of the two Government would speak together in the same sense, in the same frank and unreserved terms as you have spoken to me this evening, all fear of any collissions would be at an end. (Hear, hear.) I can assure you that, notwithstanding the speeches of some of my countrymen, notwithstanding the writings in some American journals, there is no nation under the sun for which America entertains a greater regard than England, and if the real sentiments of the people of each country can be clearly established to each other, I shall have no fear of their coming into collision. [Cheers.] I believe, gentlemen, you have taken the right course to produce this desirable understanding, and I shall undertake with great pleasure the duty of at once transmitting your address to President Lincoln." [Cheers.]

The London Times looks upon Mr. Adams' speech as most reasonable and timely. "A good many words may pass," says the Times, "without leading to blows, and as we are confident that neither Englishmen nor Americans have the least wish to go to war with each other, we look forward without mistrust to that mutual forbearance on the part of their Government, which Mr. Adams so wisely invokes. We must submit to certain interruptions in our trade, in deference to the rights of a belligerent. The Americans must tolerate some shortcomings on our part, in consideration of the difficulties of a neutral. We can assure them, if they need the assurance, that a single violation of our neutrality would ever occur without the regret of the Government and the deprecation of the public, but such offences cannot be easily prevented."

In another editorial the Times shows reasons why England must put the most favorable construction possible on the proceedings of the Federal cruisers.

THE FOREIGN ENLISTMENT ACT.

In the Liverpool Chamber of Commerce, on the 4th inst., a letter was read from the Foreign Office, dated the 15th April, acknowledging the receipt of the memorial from the Liverpool Chamber of Commerce on the subject of the Foreign Enlistment act, and stating that Her Majesty's Government cannot, on consideration, see how any improvement can be made in that act. Mr. King moved that the Chamber express its hope that in case further experience beyond the escape of the Alabama shall show that the Foreign Enlistment Act is not sufficient for the accomplishment of its object in which British interests are so deeply involved, immediate steps would be taken to remedy the deficiency before precedents should grow up which might seriously embarrass England whenever she might be engaged in war. The motion was unanimously agreed to.

THE COTTON TRADE.

The opinion gains ground that the improvement in the Cotton Trade lately has been considerable, and it is observable in the manufacturing districts that a greater number of chimneys are smoking.

PARLIAMENTARY PROCEEDINGS.

In the House of Commons on the 4th inst., Mr. Peacock gave notice that on the 8th inst., he should call attention to the case of the Sea Queen, for Matamoras, and ask why a certain dispatch was suppressed.

Mr. Layard, in reply to Mr. Maguire said that the American flag had been hauled down on the Island of Sombrero during the stay of Her Majesty's steamship Phaeton there. It was not true that this island had been discovered by the Americans ten years ago, for it had long been part of the British possessions in the Carribean Sea. It had been settled by a party of Americans working a mine there, and the Captain of the Phaeton was unwilling, whilst he stayed there, to recognize that occupation. There had been no correspondence.

Mr. Gladstone made a powerful speech in defence of his proposition to extend the income tax to charitable institutions, but afterward, admitting that the House was against the proposition, he withdrew it in the midst of loud cheers.

The Prince and Princess of Wales visited the House during the proceedings for the first time.

In the House of Commons on the 5th inst., Mr. Layard, in response to Lord R. Cecil, made some explanation as to the mails on board the steamer Peterhoff, and the promise of the American Government that they should be delivered up.

Lord Hatherton, formerly a prominent politician, and at one time Chief Secretary for Ireland, died on the 4th inst., aged 73 years.

FRANCE.

HOSTETTER'S

CELEBRATED

CONCLUSIVE PROOFS

OF THE EFFICACY OF

HOSTETTER'S

STOMACH BITTERS.

HEAR THE WITNESSES!

Worthless and pernicious articles are so often bolstered up in the advertising columns of the Press by fabricated letters, that the proprietors of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS rarely give quotations from their business correspondence, lest the GENUINE OPINIONS of those who use and appreciate a GENUINE ARTICLE, should be confounded by the unthinking with the FULSOME RIGMAROLE put into the mouths of MEN OF STRAW by unscrupulous empirics and charlatans, whose double object it is to SELL both their trash and the PUBLIC.

Believing, however, that FACTS IMPORTANT TO THE HEALTH AND COMFORT OF THE PUBLIC, and which can be VERIFIED AT ANY MOMENT by addressing the parties who vouch for them, ought not to be hid under a bushel, the undersigned publish below a few communications of recent date, to which they invite the attention of the people, and at the same time ESPECIALLY REQUEST all readers who may feel interested in the subject, to ADDRESS THE INDIVIDUALS THEMSELVES, and ascertain the correctness of the particulars.

It may be thought, perhaps, that a preparation like HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, which has long been a STANDARD TONIC throughout the WESTERN HEMISPHERE, and is rapidly becoming a staple of trade at the antipodes, speaks for itself in stronger tones than private eulogium can speak for it. This is true; but the phases of disease are almost innumerable, and every day new instances of the success of the Bitters, either as a PREVENTIVE or a CURE, come to the knowledge of the proprietors through the mails. Some of these are of immediate interest to thousands placed in precisely the same circumstances as the parties who have been PROTECTED or RELIEVED, and therefore it seems almost an act of duty to put them on record.

For example, seven-eighths of the multitudes who go to sea suffer more or less from SEA-SICKNESS. They dread this terrible affliction more than the fury of the elements, and it must be an unspeakable satisfaction to them to learn that it can be averted by the use of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. It is only within the last twelve months that this GREAT FACT IN MEDICATION has been established, and hence it is not universally known. Those who have tested this newly-developed property of the preparation, and escaped sea-sickness by its aid, are naturally anxious to spread the glad tidings among all who "go down to the sea in ships and do business on the great waters." The witness upon this point, whose testimony is appended, not only gives his own experience, but corroborates it with emphatic evidence from other sources. If there be any who are skeptical on the subject, they are hereby referred directly to him and to the gentlemen who shared with him the beneficial effects of the antidote.

The immense increase in the sales of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, both at home and abroad, during the past year, proves that the world, while it obeys the Scriptural injunction to "try all things," only "HOLDS FAST to that which is GOOD." Spurious preparations, like poisonous fungi, are continually springing up, but their character is soon discovered, and they are "flung like worthless weeds away." On the other hand, a great antidote, that performs all it promises, and even more than its proprietors claimed for it on its introduction, is "not for a day, but for all time."

Every dose administered of a useless or deleterious nostrum helps to disabuse the public mind of the impressions it may have received from the flourish of trumpets with which the deceptious article was announced; while, on the contrary, every bottle sold of a really valuable medicine secures the permanent custom of the purchaser, and makes him an ADVERTISER OF ITS MERITS among his friends. It is thus that HOSTETTER'S BITTERS have obtained their unparalleled popularity. The Press, indeed, has made the GREAT STOMACHIC widely known, but it is the uniformly successful results of PERSONAL EXPERIMENT that have rendered it a HOUSEHOLD MEDICINE throughout the length and breadth of the land, and the main reliance of the TRAVELER, the VOYAGER, the MINER and the PIONEER.

During the Summer months a pure wholesome tonic, in which are also incorporated the properties of an antibilious and mild aperient agent, is especially needed. Such a preparation is HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, the surest preventive and cure of dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation and nervous debility ever placed within the reach of the community.

Against the depressing and sickening tendency of heat and miasma, it is a potent safeguard, and upon persons of feeble constitution and uncertain health, its renovating effects are most extraordinary.

ST. NICHOLAS HOTEL, NEW-YORK, March 2, 1863.

Dr. Hostetter—Dear Sir: Being of a bilious temperament, and having suffered much from sea-sickness heretofore, I determined, when leaving New-Orleans for New-York, in June last, to try your Celebrated Stomach Bitters. Having made the trip in the propeller Trade Wind, without the least inconvenience, owing to their preventive efficacy, I procured, on the 26th of July, a box of your Bitters, for the use of myself and a few friends, on our contemplated voyage to Europe in the Great Eastern. After getting to sea I opened the box and, together with about ten of my fellow-passengers, partook of the Bitters. On the second day some of the ladies on board felt sea-sick, but by taking half a wineglassfull three times a day, they soon recovered. Dr. Goldsborow, the ship's physician and Captain Paton, the Commander, together with a large portion of the passengers subsequently experimented with the Bitters, and uniformly with entire success. They will certify to the fact, that during the whole trip not one person on board was sea-sick after the second day. Dr. G. having appropriated the last remaining bottle, as an infallible specific, I had none of the article on my return voyage, and suffered more than I can describe in consequence. I have orders for two boxes from two of my late fellow passengers, now in Liverpool, and shall send them out by the next steamer. You ought to have a depot in Liverpool. Advising all persons venturing for the first time (or indeed at any time) to sea, to obtain if possible, a supply of your bitters before leaving port, and thereby SECURE themselves against sea-sickness,

I am, respectfully, your obedient servant,
JOHN A. MUELLOR.

NEW-ALEXANDRIA, VA., March 9, 1863.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith: Sirs, I have used some of your HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS with the greatest success imaginable. I have been sorely afflicted with Dyspepsia for five years. I have spent more than three hundred dollars in paying doctor bills and buying medicines, some of which gave temporary relief but your most invaluable remedy has done more good than all others I have ever used.

Respectfully yours, SAMUEL RYEN.

EAGLEPORT, MORGAN COUNTY, OHIO, March 2, 1863.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith: Gents, send us four dozen HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, as we are nearly out, and we can't do without it; in fact it is superseding all other stomachic preparations with us.

Respectfully, PRICE & SILVERY.
